ABOUT BICYCLES.

A GOOD WHEEL is cheap at any price. A poor wheel is dear at any price. Those "high grade" (?) bicycles, without a name-plate, test the purchaser's patience and purse when a new nut, bolt or spoke is needed. It is economy to buy a good wheel, made by a firm that knows how to build bicycles, and that expects to stay in the business. Reliable, medium priced mounts furnished for those who are willing to ride something next to the best. Come and see me, if you intend to ride a wheel in '97, and talk the matter over before making a selection.
