THE CRIMSON 1933

EX LIBRIS

CRIMSON
1933

DR. J. FRANCIS COOPER

Born—May 13, 1858

Died—December 24, 1932

As a monument and pledge of respect to the memory of a man who was such an eminent preacher, wise administrator and distinguished educator and who for seven years served as the beloved headmaster of the East Greenwich Academy, We, the Class of 1933, reverently dedicate this edition of

THE CRIMSON

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

Friday, June 9

Beach Party ..... 2:30 P. M.
Student Stunt Night ..... 8:00 P. M.

Saturday, June 10

Yachting Picnic ..... 10:00 A. M.
Senior Prom ..... 8:00 P. M.

Sunday, June 11

Baccalaureate Sermon
at M. E. Church ..... 11:00 A. M.
Dr. L. G. Horton, Class of '83

Closing Vespers, Union Service,
M. E. Church ..... 7:30 P. M.
Rabbi Israel L. Goldman — Speaker

Monday, June 12

Trustee Meeting ..... 10:00 A. M.
Senior Luncheon ..... 12:00 Noon
Class Day, Chapel ..... 2:30 P. M.
Baseball Game,
E. G. A. vs. Alumni ..... 3:30 P. M.
Commencement, Chapel ..... 8:00 P. M.

Valedictorian ..... Ethel Capwell
Salutatorian ..... Albert Halsband
High Honors ..... William M. Johnson
Address ..... Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, D.D., LL.D.

Top Row—Mrs. Grover, Miss Brown, Mr. Swanson, Mr. Grover, Mr. Witham, Mrs. Heath, Miss Burgess

Bottom Row—Miss Walloe, Mrs. Williams, Miss Giles, Mrs. Stewart, Dr. LeBaron, Mr. Williams, Miss Waterman

FACULTY

Ira W. LeBaron, A.B., Ph.D., D.D. ..... Headmaster, English Bible
Boston University

J. Parker Williams ..... Dean of Faculty, Commercial
Bay Path Institute

Donald B. Grover, A.B. ..... English
Harvard University

Rudolph H. Swanson, A.B. ..... Science, Mathematics
American University

Floyd Witham ..... Junior School, Grades 5-8
Eastern State Normal School

Jennie A. Giles, A.B. ..... Dean of Girls, Latin
Western University

Esther M. Williams ..... Commercial
Bay Path Institute

Astrid L. Walloe, A.B., A.M. ..... History
Wellesley-Radcliffe College

Madalin B. Heath, B.S. ..... Science
Rhode Island State College

Jeanette F. Burgess, A.B. ..... Music, German
Middlebury College

Elsie M. Waterman, A.B. ..... French
Middlebury College

Cora Lou Stewart ..... Junior School, Grades 1-4
Iowa State Normal School

OFFICERS OF ADMINISTRATION

Ruth H. Brown ..... Secretary
Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School

Esther C. Grover ..... Dietitian
Lowell Normal School

William A. Leominster ..... Janitor

Top Row—E. Capwell, L. D'Attore, H. Sweet, P. Williams, W. King, E. Williams, D. Haddock

Bottom Row—M. Stokoe, A. Halsband, L. Carcieri, W. M. Johnson, H. Jacobson

THE CRIMSON BOARD 1933

Albert Halsband ..... Editor

Marshall Stokoe ..... Business Manager

Lucy D'Attore ..... Art

Editorial Board

William M. Johnson
Dorothy Haddock
Ethel Capwell
Hattie Sweet
Lena Carcieri
Winifred King
Herman Jacobson

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams ..... Advisors

(We acknowledge with thanks the art work of R. Guzman and M. Tallman of the Class of '32, whose division page etchings we have again used.)

GRADUATING CLASS 1933

Leonard Edward Anderson

314 Main Street, East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Scientific Diploma R. I. State

You see before you one of the quietest members of our class. Quiet and unassuming but loyal and true. "Red" took quite an interest in sports at the beginning of his third year and made several of our teams. He expects to attend R. I. State College next year and we are sure he'll make many friends there. We'll be watching you, Red.

Glee Club (2) (3) (4), Football (3), Soccer (4), Baseball (3) (4), Gym (2).

Ethel Capwell

111 Second Street, East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Classical Diploma R. I. College of Education

Ethel is a student in the full meaning of the word. When we realize that during the four years Ethel has been here in E. G. A. her average mark in all her courses has been over ninety per cent, we begin to understand the remarkable ability possessed by this quiet, unassuming young woman. Besides leading in scholarship Ethel has been a most loyal helper in class activities. Rhode Island College of Education will understand next year just why E. G. A. conferred its greatest honor to our friend and classmate.

Glee Club (1) (2) (3) (4), Operetta (1) (2), Vice-President French Club (4), Crimson Board (4), Ring Committee (4), Red Literary Society (4), Valedictorian.

Carmella Lena Carcieri

3 Lion Street, East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Business Academic Diploma Undecided

Who is this dark Cleopatra? Of course, it can be none other than Lena. She certainly showed our opponents how to play basketball last year even though her great weakness is causing personal fouls. Oh, pardon me! Her real weakness is dancing—and can she dance! (Lena believes in doing things thoroughly). She is our expert typist and also a splendid scholar. Wherever Lena's fair smile is sent one forgets all worries and woe. And why not? We know that the firm which employs Lena will have some one worth keeping.

Gym (1) (2) (4), Soccer (1), Glee Club (1) (2), Basketball (2) (3) (4), Captain (4), Tennis (4), Crimson Board (4), Office Helper (4), White Literary Society (4).

Lucy Gorizia D'Attore

24 Liberty Street, East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Academic Diploma R. I. State

May we introduce "Goody," one of our best beloved classmates. This talented miss is very clever with her pencil as can be seen by the drawings in our CRIMSON. And dance! Why she never misses a social or dance given at E. G. A. How many people has she enchanted with those dreamy eyes. Countless is the answer. A hard little worker is Lucy who is always ready to do her share and more if necessary. A more loyal and faithful helper couldn't be found.

May the best of success be yours "Goody."

Soccer (1), Class Secretary (1) (2), Glee Club (1) (3), Secretary, Treasurer, Glee Club (2), Operetta (2), President of Glee Club (4), Vice-President (3) (4), Dance Committee—Chairman (3), Hallowe'en Social Committee (3) (4), Crimson Board—Art (4), Ring Committee (4).

Albert Halsband

876 Main Street, East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Classical Diploma N. Y. U.

"Al"—our President and the Editor of our CRIMSON. The first thing you notice about "Al" is his cheerful smile which is always in evidence. As for peppy jazz, what would we do at our dances if it were not for "Al" and his saxophone? He does not let his popularity stand in the way of his scholastic standing as he is our salutatorian. "Al" and his witty remarks which have enlivened many a dull class will surely be missed. Here's hoping you hold your own in the future as well as you have at good old E. G. A., "Al."

Track (1), Orchestra (1) (2), Class President (2) (3) (4), Junior Prom Committee (3), Hallowe'en Social Committee (3), French Club President (4), Ring Committee (4), Crimson Board —Editor (4), Salutatorian, Red Literary Society (4).

Marion Holbrook

7 Earl Street, West Warwick, Rhode Island

Classical Diploma Smith

It was not an ill wind which blew from Northfield Seminary toward East Greenwich and brought Marion to us. Marion immediately found her way into our hearts. Although she was a bit late in joining us she soon took part in all our activities and became one of the "live-wires" of our class. She's popular, she's demure, and what else can one ask for? Here's a tip for you boy friends! Marion's favorite sport is flying, so all save up and buy a buggy and you'll have a chance! Well, Marion, we surely won't forget you after Commencement!

William M. Johnson

39 Stafford Road, Newton Center, Massachusetts

Academic Diploma Undecided

"Billy" hails from Newton Center and has been with us during our entire stay at E. G. A. Billy is a fellow that one likes to see and to have around at all times. Ask the "fair blond Venus"; she knows. But all joking aside, Billy has captured a big corner of our hearts and we'll always remember his winning personality and jovial smile. Billy also has a melodious voice and has been a great aid to the Glee Club.

We wish you all kinds of luck, "Billy," in whatever you undertake.

Glee Club (1) (2) (3) (4), A. A. Manager (3), Crimson Board (4), Class Treasurer (4), High Honors (4), Red Literary Society (4).

Winifred King

23 Melrose Street, East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Business Academic Undecided

Beholdest thou the "Blond Venus." This could be none other than our ever-smiling "Winnie." She is gay, jolly and generally found where any fun is going on. We sometimes wonder if she doesn't think that 8:15 is a little too early to start school. Winnie has a host of friends and is always in great demand at our different activities. Winnie has not confided in us with regards to her future, but she surely will be a success in whatever she may undertake.

White Literary Society (4), Crimson Board (4), Glee Club (4).

John Menzies

Elmwood Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island

Academic Undecided

Day after day, John has come from Providence to the East Greenwich Academy in order to attend school. We are glad that John has been able to do this. We sincerely hope that in future years much of that elusive thing called fame will join and be with him constantly. Good luck and good wishes to you, John.

James Kenneth McKinnon

17 Jane Street, Pawtucket, Rhode Island

Academic R. I. State

"Mac" is only about six feet three. Now that is a good deal to start with and when you put a handsome head on those big shoulders and a wide grin upon that face you just realize why we like "Mac." Rhode Island Co-eds will discover next year that all of their blandishments will be of no appeal—so far "Mac" has been impervious to a feminine coquette.

Marshall L. Stokoe

Nantucket, Massachusetts

Academic Diploma Undecided

Marshall came to us from Nantucket at the beginning of our Junior year. He is good natured and his face is always wreathed in a smile. It is he who keeps a vigilant eye on the clock so that our periods may close and open on time. He also helps Uncle Sam by toiling up Church Street twice a day with the mail which comes to E. G. A. As "Marsh" comes from an island it isn't surprising that his specialty is boats.

Good luck, Marshall.

A. A. Manager (3), Class Treasurer (3), Crimson Board—Business Manager (4).

Hattie Elizabeth Sweet

42 Fifth Street, East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Music Diploma N. E. Conservatory of Music

Who's that playing the piano? Why that's Hattie, the pianist and musician of the class of '33. What'll we have for entertainment. Of course, we'll ask Hattie to "tickle the ivories" for us. And can she do it! And harmonize? Say, when she and "Goody" get together, the Boswell's had better watch their reputation. Hattie also fingers the typewriter keys with equal dexterity. Hattie intends to continue her musical education after leaving E. G. A., and wherever she goes we know she will progress rapidly and make a name for herself.

Glee Club (1) (2) (3) (4), Operetta (1) (2), Orchestra (1) (2), President of Glee Club (3), Vice-President Glee Club (2), French Club (4), Crimson Board—Alumni (4), Red Society (4).

Theresa Beryl Waterman

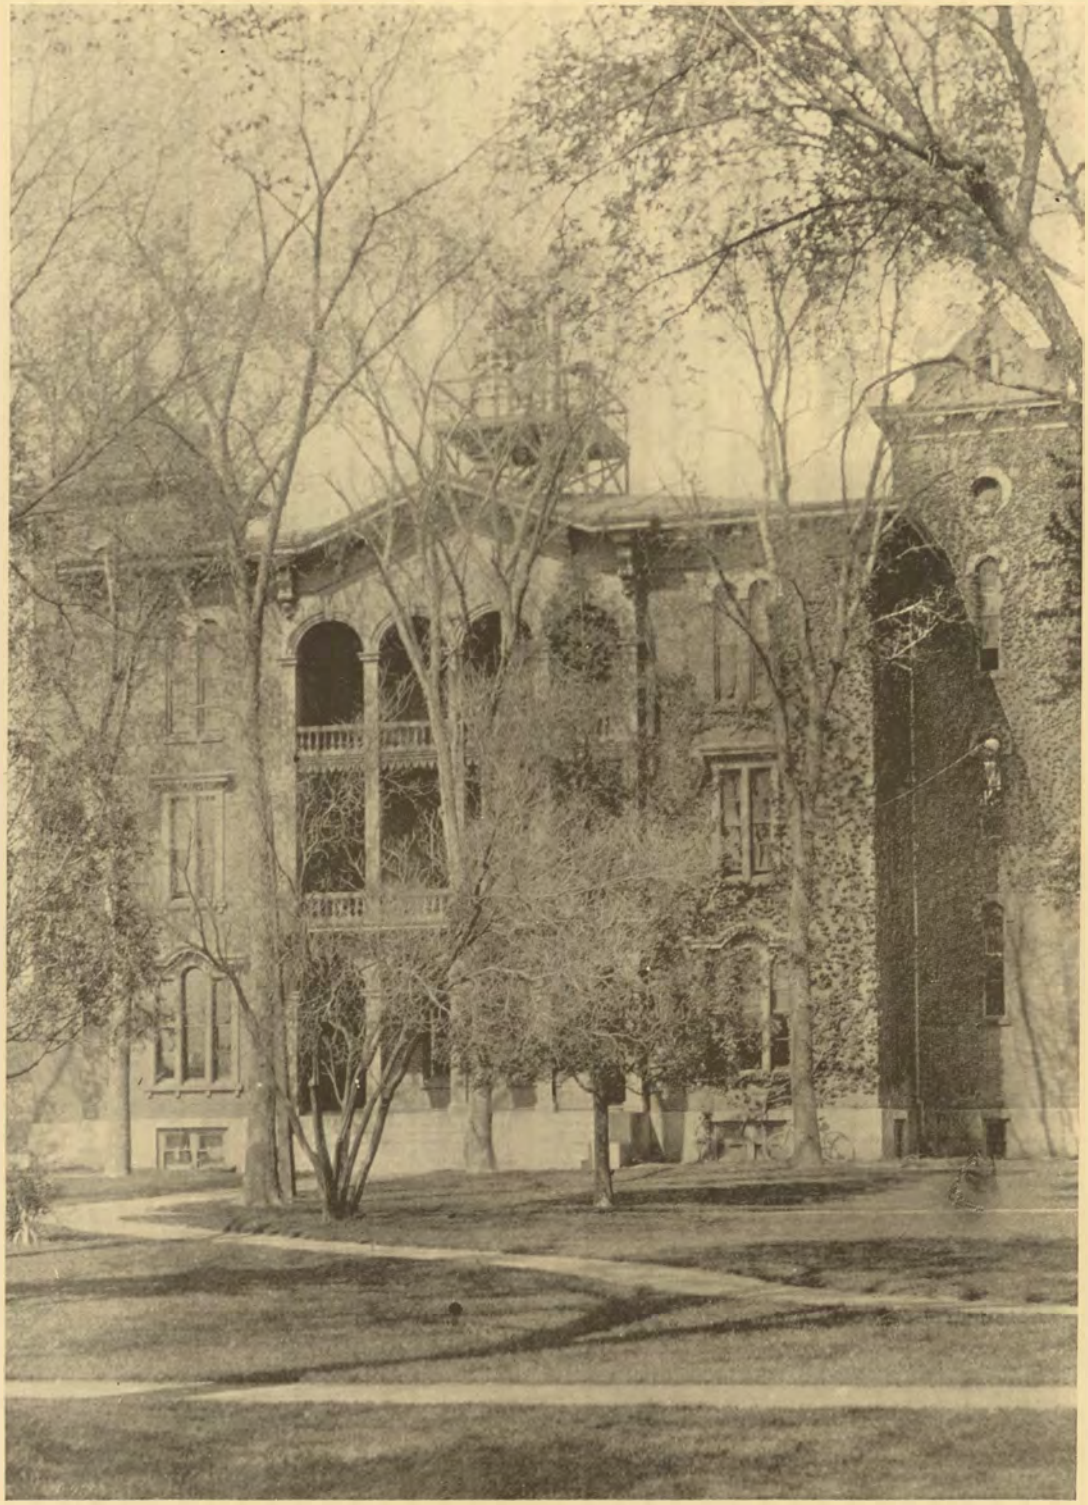

32 Union Street, East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Two-year Business Certificate Undecided

Do you like "Peanuts"? If you do you have some conception of Theresa. During her Freshman year, she always had some peanuts stored away in her pockets, consequently she obtained the nickname "Peanuts." She is both snappy and happy-go-lucky with a pleasant laugh. If you would like to hear a good joke, just get her to crack her latest one. We like Theresa because she's just an "All American Girl."

Good luck, pal.

Soccer (1), Glee Club (2), Junior Prom Committee (3), White Literary Society (4).

The Administration Building

Top Row—E. Capwell, M. Stokoe, L. Anderson, E. Williams, T. Waterman

Middle Row — L. Carcieri, H. Sweet, P. Williams, M. Holbrook, D. Haddock

Bottom Row—J. McKinnon, L. D'Attore, A. Halsband, W. M. Johnson, W. King, J. Menzies

SENIOR HISTORY

CAN it be that nearly four years have elapsed since we were Freshmen? We now look back over those years to recall what has taken place.

In the fall of 1929, we, as a class, entered a strange place, but it was not long before we became well acquainted. The first week was our hardest, for we were being well supervised by our upper classmates to see that we obeyed the Freshman Rules. The girls were wearing green bibs, and the boys were wearing their shirts backwards. We were certainly happy when the first week had passed.

Before long our class was well established and we elected the following members to be our class officers:

William Horgan	President	Lucy G. D'Attore	Secretary
Ruth Johnson	Vice-President	Ivan Smith	Treasurer

Miss N. I. Benedict—Faculty Advisor

Although we did not sponsor any dances or socials, we did our best to help support the other classes.

When we entered again in the fall of 1930, as Sophomores, we could look down on the poor Freshmen who then had to wear their green bibs and their shirts backwards. Being so well acquainted with most of the students and most of the surroundings, we did not find it difficult to get back into the routine of the school work.

Our class was again organized, and we elected the following class officers:

Albert Halsband	President	Lucy D'Attore	Secretary
Winifred King	Vice-President	William Horgan	Treasurer

Mr. Taylor and Miss Paterson—Faculty Advisors

During this year, as in the past, our class was not at all active in sponsoring any social functions. The other classes, however, made up for that which we did not do.

(Continued on Page 40)

Top Row—Helen Olson, Marian Mayhew, Arthur Green, Alve Oberg, Perry Shor, J. William Johnson, Mary Hunt, Helen James

Middle Row—Doris Algren, Irving Kenyon, Donald Warren, Mr. Swanson, Miss Burgess, Allin Thompson, Walter Swanson, Marguerite Regan

Bottom Row—Mildred Frye, Frank Gill, Adelle Brown, Norma James, Arthur Ericson, Hope Lindberg, Lillian Abrams

JUNIOR HISTORY

HISTORY is a record of man's achievements, we have learned. Why, then, should the Class of '34 become so prosaic as to relate the very obvious facts that they entered one of the oldest Academies of Rhode Island in 1930 as small, green Freshmen, that as the three years glided on they mastered all the Latin, Algebra, French, Spanish, History, etc., that the noble institution gives to its students, that they became well versed in their gymnastic, musical, dramatic, and social activities, that they absorbed the very best from hosts of writers. Ah, no—these are but commonplace and "History is a record of man's achievements!" To give the history of the Class of '34 we must relate their achievements then, their marvelous successes and their heroic deeds.

September 1930 ushered in another new class to the East Greenwich Academy. Though timid and inexperienced this Freshman class was all ready for hard and earnest work. After electing class officers these green freshmen studied and struggled their way through an interesting Freshman year.

In the fall of 1931, there were a few new faces added and many old ones missing in the ranks of the Sophs. In order to assemble things for the year's work, they held a class meeting, electing:

PERRY SHOR	President	FRANK GILL	Treasurer
HELEN JAMES	Vice-President	NORMA JAMES	Secretary

Mrs. Laurence Heath (Miss Babcock at the time) was chosen as class advisor. Socials, parties, studies and sports occupied the year. As the delightful year closed they looked forward to yet another year at E. G. A.

September 1933 found them Juniors and ready for work! Desirous of electing class officers, the first meeting of the Junior Class was held and the following were chosen:

FRANK GILL	President	ARTHUR ERICSON	Treasurer
ADELLE BROWN	Vice-President	NORMA JAMES	Secretary

Miss Burgess and Mr. Swanson were selected as advisors.

(Continued on Page 41)

Top Row—Charles Siegel, William Lindstrom, Herman Jacobson, Ralph Marden, Creighton Wellen, Howard Healy

Middle Row—Doris Day, Dorothy Symons, Francis Kenyon, Chetwynd Weld, Mrs. Heath, Peter Pharnes, Borden Nichols, Geraldine Portaluppi, Marjorie Ekstrom

Bottom Row — Hazel Benson, Viola Tibbetts, Philip Dow, Elizabeth Crawley, Emma Quinn, Raymond Gebler, Elizabeth Littlefield

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

CONFUSION reigned supreme among the members of what was to be known as the Sophomore Class when we entered E. G. A. last fall, having been the first class graduated from the new Junior High School. The struggle for normal order could be seen through the jumbled schedules that were slowly being made all right. The hectic time introduced, however, new and desirable acquaintances who have remained good friends.

Rumors of election of class officers began to buzz. We endeavored to discover the real leaders in our class. The termination of this free-for-all argument resulted in the selection of:

Phillip Dow	President	Emma Quinn	Secretary
Elizabeth Crawley	Vice-President	Raymond Gebler	Treasurer

Mrs. Lawrence Heath and Miss Astrid Walloe—Advisors

Although we have done little as a class in the way of sponsoring dances or plays we have joined every social or entertainment sponsored by the other classes. We more than made up for this backwardness in social activities by entering in an energetic way into many athletic events. Fourteen of the twenty-one members of our class were able to be on varsity teams during this year.

The sophomores who were placed on teams are as follows:

Boys' Basketball—C. Seigel, Jacobson, Wellen, Marden, and Dow

Soccer—F. Kenyon, C. Seigel, and Dow

Girls' Basketball—Portaluppi, Ekstrom, Crawley, and Littlefield

Gym—Chet Weld, leader of flying rings; F. Kenyon, leader of high bar; Dow and Gebler

Baseball—C. Seigel, Dow, Jacobson, and Marden

We feel justly proud of our athletic class and we look forward with eagerness to the years that lie ahead.

Post Graduates
First Row: Peter Crowell, Merlyn Towne, Dorothy Bowser, Florence Perry
Second Row: Josiah Cook, Thurlow Bearse, James McKinnon, Ward Savery

Freshmen
First Row: Mildred Foraberg, Eleanor Schlemmer, Charlotte Brinke
Second Row: Gerry Worthen, Harry Siegal, Edward Jennison, Donald MacDougall

ALUMNI

ATTENTION, all! For your pleasure and interest we shall give you some inside information as to what the members of the classes of '30, '31, '32 are doing at present.

Class of 1930

Mildred Algren is a student at the Nurses Training School at the Homeopathic Hospital, Providence, R. I.

Another student at the Homeopathic Nurses Training School is the quieter half of the Boren twins, Myrtle. The other twin, Martha, can still be found in East Greenwich, employed at Earnshaw's Drug Co.

Sarah Briggs is employed as an operator in the East Greenwich telephone exchange.

Bernice Chase seems also to be medically inclined and has joined the other members of her class at the Homeopathic Hospital.

Ann Freeman still keeps her high reputation at Rhode Island State.

From Rochester, N. Y., we hear that Ellsworth Gaylord—the artist of his class—is attending Mechanics Institute where he is studying Illustration Art. His specialty is Designing. He is a member of the Chi Epsilon Phi.

We believe that from all reports wedding bells will soon be ringing for Barbara Lenz. If you remember, "Bobbie" was the song-bird of her class.

Edna Lindberg, since 1930, has been employed as clerk for the State Public Welfare Commission at the State House in Providence. She has been promoted from a sub-office to an Administrative Office.

Frank Mucci is specializing in Religion at Boston University.

We hear from Ohio Wesleyan that Beatrice Ricker is still maintaining a good scholastic standing.

Ruth Silverman is attending Rhode Island State.

Again from Rhode Island State we hear from Helen Taggart. Helen is taking a General Science Course specializing in Mathematics. She is very active in baseball and basketball.

We hear that Mildred Colvin, Harriet Olson, and Ruth Tarbox are at home.

Walter Walker still keeps his high position in Mathematics at Brown while his twin cousin, William Whittle, is specializing in Economics. They both have high scholastic standings.

Marion Whitworth and Rhoda Williams are students at the Nurses Training School of the Homeopathic Hospital.

Class of 1931

Of the class of 1931 we find the fair Co-ed, Beatrice Bent, is now Mrs. R. C. Flanagan, Jr., living at 447 Fifth Street, Greenville, N. C.

"Kay" Brown, the favorite of her class and Salutatorian of '31, is at American University in Washington, D. C. She is taking a course in Liberal Arts, her specialty

(Continued on Page 42)

Top Row—Thomas Bailey, Edwin Littlefield

Middle Row—Mazie Forman, Mrs. Cora Lou Stewart, Philip Dow, Mr. Witham, Minnette Franklin

Bottom Row—Richard Howatt, Henry Kaplan, George Proctor, Bernard Brooks, William MacDougall, Grace Menzies

JUNIOR SCHOOL

THE Junior School of the Academy provides boys and girls an opportunity for a moral and well ordered life, and an intellectual training that enables them to assimilate the more advanced subjects of learning. The atmosphere of the school is distinctly that of a home rather than an institution and character building is a prime factor. What a story of life and activity Olney Hall could tell! Many boys have come and gone, boys who are young men now. No one can measure the results nor estimate the value they received in the Academy.

Thomas Bailey comes with the high school crowd from Fall River and studies hard, for he wants to take up engineering. He is a fine lad and a good student, and we trust he will make a second Goethals.

Mazie Forman, our dainty, petite, wide-awake girl graduate came to us from Edgartown and after two years of intensive study she passes on to become a "Freshie."

Our other girl graduate, Minnette Franklin, is a Boston girl, but has been with us for four years and it is with great reluctance that we surrender these girls to the tender mercies of the Freshman Class.

The historic Island of Jamestown contributes two of our larger boys this year. Edwin Littlefield, "little by name but not by nature," loves his island home more than anything else on earth but has separated himself from it for two years for the priceless treasure of garnered knowledge. He declares he shall follow the sea.

Bernard Brooks also comes from Jamestown and is not perfectly happy except when tasting salt water. The "Bounding Main" for him too he says when his school-days are over, though he aspires to navigate luxurious ocean liners.

George Proctor is a brilliant, ambitious student from up Boston way. Just try to ask him anything in the Grammar School curriculum that he cannot answer! A college professor he will be, and we shall all be proud of him.

(Continued on Page 41)

ESSAY ON JOHN MILTON

By WARD W. SAVERY

TIMIDLY I reached forth my hand to sound the old brass knocker on the panelling of an ancient English home. Slow, plodding steps, shuffling a little, approached and the door swung creakingly open. An old man, his face wrinkled and white stood before me; blind, he was, but I could see the questioning look in his face. One word only he uttered:

"Well?"

"May I speak with you for a while, Mr. Milton? I wish to hear the story of your life from your own lips."

"Prithee, come in, my lad; gladly shall I tell you the history of one who has lived a life of hypocrisy; yet also a life through which he has tried to bring some good into the world."

He led me down a long, dusty corridor to his study, dimly lighted by one window. Seated before the open fire-place, the old man began his tale.

" 'The Lady of Christ's' they used to call me. I was educated at St. Paul's and Cambridge University, where I studied for the ministry. While I was there Archbishop Laud placed many restrictions upon the clergy telling them what they should preach about and how to conduct themselves. I did not wish to start my life in bondage so I left the University and went to my father's home in Horton. Here I studied for many years the technique of poetry, and it was there that I wrote my two companion poems which I greatly love. Have you ever read 'L'Allegro' and 'Il Penseroso'? 'L'Allegro' is a description of all those beautiful things of life which charmed me when I was happy: the lark winging his flight to the sky; the milkmaids; the farmers tilling the soil; the children at play after school; and the stories of love and adventure told in the inns at eventide. In 'Il Penseroso' I told of the things to which I turn when I am thoughtful or in a musing mood. I love to sit in a tower at midnight and watch the constellations in the sky as they fade away with the coming of morning. Then I like to steal away to a shady nook, where a small stream trickles softly on its way to the sea. Here I like to lie and dream until I fall asleep, wakening with the sound of soft Lydian airs in my ears.

(Continued on Page 44)

ATHLETICS

Top Row—Arthur Ericson, Donald MacDougall

Middle Row—Leonard Anderson, Allin Thompson, Mr. Rudolph Swanson, Ward Savery, Alve Oberg

Bottom Row—Thurlow Bearse, Harry Siegel, Josiah Cook, Philip Dow, Charles Siegel

SOCCER

KEEPING in step with the general trend of athletic programs the East Greenwich Academy added another sport to its athletic program this year, namely, soccer. Daily practice was held under the supervision of Coach Swanson, and after the rudiments of the game had been mastered and a few plays developed the entire squad journeyed to Providence to engage in their first inter-school contest with the strong Commercial High team. When the final whistle sounded the score read: Commercial High 5, East Greenwich Academy 1.

The East Greenwich boys next invaded the sanctum of the Warwick High players and amid much mud and water found themselves on the small end of a 3-0 score at the end of the contest. However, in their next contest, which was played on their home field they avenged their first defeat from Warwick to the tune of a 4-2 score.

The next contest was against the crack Cranston High team, All-State Champions for 1932. The final score was Cranston 5, East Greenwich 1. A second contest was played with Cranston on November 17 on the E. G. A. Athletic Field and once again Cranston was the victor, 4-2.

On November 30, our team played host to the fast Moses Brown team and on this day our boys really "clicked." An extra period was resorted to. In the final minute of play of this extra period C. Siegel booted a long shot from right wing that made a perfect arch as it traveled from his toe to slip neatly through the uprights for the winning point.

A return game was played with Moses Brown on their field and amid very adverse weather conditions our boys were beaten by a 2-1 score. This marked the final game of the season and after the game as the boys were removing their uniforms for the last time of the season one was heard to remark, "Soccer's really not so bad after all even if those bloomin' Johnnies across the water do play it all the time."

SCHEDULE

October 20	Commercial High—Away
October 27	Warwick High—Away
November 3	Cranston High—Away
November 10	Warwick High—Home
November 17	Cranston High—Home
November 30	Moses Brown—Home
December 10	Moses Brown—Away

Top Row—Harry Siegel, Thurlow Bearse

Middle Row—Ralph Marden, Herman Jacobson, Coach Williams, Lawson Mott, Creighton Wellen

Bottom Row—Josiah Cook, Allin Thompson, Arthur Ericson, Philip Dow, Charles Siegel

BOYS' BASKETBALL

EVEN though the boys' team came out on the wrong side of the score during the greater part of their season, they took the defeats with a sportsmanship that is worth commendation.

From the experience gained this year a much faster and more capable team is expected next fall. The development of team play will be more quickly grasped and mastered because of the number of players who will return in the fall.

Our team was composed of H. Siegel and L. Mott, Freshmen; P. Dow, C. Siegel, R. Marden, Jacobson, C. Wellen, Sophomores; A. Ericson and A. Thompson, Juniors; and T. Bearse and J. Cook of the Post Graduate Class.

SCHEDULE

December 16	Alumni
January 3	Central Falls
January 4	Warwick
January 10	West Warwick
January 11	Warwick
January 17	West Warwick
January 27	Classical
February 10	R. I. School of Deaf
February 14	R. I. School of Deaf
February 20	Central Falls
February 23	South Kingston
March 3	South Kingston Junior Varsity

Top Row—D. Haddock, P. Crowell, R. Waterman

Middle Row — F. Perry, H. Lindberg, E. Crawley, G. Portaluppi, E. Littlefield, M. Regan

Bottom Row—M. Hunt, V. Carcieri, L. Carcieri, H. Olson, D. Algren

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

AS the Soccer season drew to a close the girls got out their new red basketball suits and decided to show the school what girls can do when they make up their minds to a thing.

Out of the fourteen girls who came out for the team, nine had had experience playing together. The other five had had their experience in other schools. Miss Rae Farrar and Miss Dorothy Compston were appointed as coaches and Patia Crowell was given the position of manager.

The Academy's first game was a victory over the Alumni with a final score of 26-16. Thus enheartened the girls went out after West Warwick's scalp and brought it home for the trophy room after a hard fought battle which ended with a score of 23-21. The very next night we journeyed to Warwick and, although the game was well played, we lost for the first time.

On January 17, Bryant-Stratton came with high hopes to play us on our home floor, but a few hours later left the Gym in a far different mood after losing the game 30-29.

A week later we again encountered West Warwick hoping to add another victory to our list. Although it seemed at times that we would come out on top, West Warwick gradually got the lead on us and succeeded in winning by the narrow margin of 22-27.

Toward the end of January we again took the Alumni into camp by a score of 18-16, in a game played for the benefit of the Red Cross.

We closed our season with return games with Warwick and Bryant-Stratton but due to the superiority of Warwick's playing and the slippery floor at Bryant-Stratton two more losses were chalked up against the team.

Under the captaincy of Lena Carcieri and the coaching of Miss Compston , we brought to a close a fairly creditable season, winning four out of eight games.

Top Row—A. Oberg, R. Marden, A. Ericson, D. MacDougall

Middle Row — R. Swanson, L. Anderson, I. Kenyon, W. Savery, K. Bennett

Bottom Row—H. Jacobson, P. Dow, T. Bearse, J. Cook, C. Siegel

BASEBALL SCHEDULE, 1933

April 22	West Warwick—Away
April 29	R. I. School of Pharmacy—Home
May 3	Moses Brown—Away
May 20	West Warwick—Home
May 26	R. I. School of Deaf—Home
June 3	R. I. School of Pharmacy—Away

ACTIVITIES

DEAR FRANCES: I certainly have some good news to tell you. It is about our Gym Exhibition which took place Thursday night, April 6. It certainly was a great success, but it had to be because of the amount of work we put in it. Mr. Williams, our athletic director, drove us for about two months like machines. I don't know whether you have heard of Mr. Ara White, Y. M. C. A. Champion, or not, but anyhow he came down here once a week and taught us the difficult routines on the horse, parallel and horizontal bars. Besides this, on exhibition night he did some keen gym stunts. You should have heard the applause he got.

The program began with a Grand March by the 35 members of the Gym Team. The march cumulated in the formation of a huge G. It really looked great, for the boys' costumes were blue and white and the girls' green and white. Immediately after this came Gym Stunts. Calesthenics was the next feature on the program. The drill for Winding Wands sure looked flashy as each wand had been painted silver. This was all done as mass work. Routines on the Flying Rings were performed by the individuals who had mastered this phase of gym work. E. G. A.'s colors were represented in the Indian Club Drills because each pair of clubs were red and white. Team tumbling came next on the program, and was followed by Side Horse Exercises, which sure displayed skill by the performers. If you wanted to laugh, Fran, you should have seen the Girls' Relay Races and Clown Acts. Of course, the girls had Folk Dances. Individual routines were seen on the Parallel and Horizontal Bars. The most spectacular diving was carried out and the applause for this act was great, especially for a set of twin boys who were the smallest of the outfit. The building of a Girls' Fan and Boys' High Ladder Pyramid brought the exhibition to a climatic close.

Well, Fran, I guess I'm just all pepped up about this but I wish you could have seen it, then you would feel like I do.

Lots of luck and see you soon.

Your Pal.

(Continued on Page 35)

ACTIVITIES
"ART"
"LIBBY"
"VI" IN ACTION
"VI"
DOW
KENYON
"CHET"
"JUST US"
"JOE"
E.G.A. AT WEST WARWICK 1933
"PETE"
E.G.A. GLEE CLUB

Activities

(Continued from Page 33)

"There's just a little street
Where old friends meet."

Every member of the East Greenwich Academy returned with this song in their hearts. After a summer of sunshine and work, we were all anxious to find relaxation in our friends and stimulation in our studies.

Social activities were slow in getting started this year. It wasn't very long, however, before Hallowe'en drifted around and the Seniors began the ball rolling with a Hallowe'en Social. This was hailed enthusiastically, the function being well attended. Costumes helped to color the atmosphere and pep up the crowd. The social year had started successfully.

The Junior Class, later proving itself to be the live spark in the school, brought to us Captain Osborne, who spoke on "Moriland." The lecture was both edifying and gratifying.

To keep things going the Juniors held a straw ride on a Saturday in February. A group of students left the school and town behind for a trip to a camp on the banks of Johnson's Pond. A lively ride was enjoyed and after reaching our destination we appeased our hunger with large juicy hot dogs and coffee.

In order to bring out the talent of the Students of the Academy two competitive Literary Societies were formed—the Red and White. Bi-monthly meetings were held at which a new and different program was offered. With such a society it is inevitable that we will produce many elocutionists in the future.

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs met with unusual success. Their singing was so well received that they presented a program in Trinity Church, Providence, which was broadcasted through the facilities of Station WPRO, Providence.

"Tell me while we're dancing,
While the lights are low."

That was the theme of the evening of the South Kingston-E. G. A. Basketball game. The last game of the season was appropriately celebrated by a dance in the Gymnasium. The Seniors, sponsoring the affair provided an orchestra for the first Taxi Dance held at the school. It was quite a novel idea and was well received.

The Juniors, still bubbling over with school spirit, issued "The Dragon," a monthly publication. Although this year's "Dragon" was not supported as well as it might be, the Juniors deserve very much credit.

The old-time French Club was revived once more. On Saturday night, March 25, the halls were filled with "Frere Jacque" and "Je ne sais pas." as a typical French program was presented. We're sure the club will resume its good work next year.

"You will know it by the shamrock,
Dearest emblem ever seen;—"

"Come to a real St. Patrick's party." This was the invitation extended to the students for the Junior Social on St. Patrick's night. Imagine our amazement when we found that St. Patrick, too, had succumbed to the Jig Saw Puzzle craze!

No high school social calendar is complete without the Senior Prom. It is our last opportunity to spend a farewell friendly evening with our school chums, they come—

"Lest auld acquaintance be forgot."

Top Row—Viola Tibbetts, Florence Perry, Maizie Forman, Charlotte Brink

Middle Row—Miss Giles, Miss Burgess, Mrs. Heath, Miss Waterman, Patia Crowell

Bottom Row—Marian Mayhew, Elinor Schlemmer, Minnette Franklin, Dorothy Bowser, Mary Hunt, Merlyn Towne

SMILES FROM EASTMAN

MISS GILES

It seems most fitting that we should begin with our worthy Dean of Girls. Whether it be in corridors or on the campus of E. G. A. whose smile is it that warms us? Miss Giles'. Besides this, she has proven indispensable as a teacher of Latin—Here's three extra cheers for the good times she has made possible.

MARIAN MAYHEW

Our man of the "Dorm!" with the ever-ready broad grin. What would we do without Marian Mayhew's manly request, "Will you have this dance with me?" She is not to be forgotten in carrying trays, cheering the sick, and well—she's just not to be forgotten.

MISS BURGESS

If you chance by Room III, melodious harmony peals forth. Upon knocking one is always responded by a gay "Come in," and on opening the door the winning smile of Miss Burgess shows her welcome. As our Music, German, Geometry, English and Arithmetic teacher she has shown that trait that we call "willingness to pull a student thru." Jeanette Burgess is just a good sport!

MRS. HEATH

Smiles! Smiles! everywhere, and can you accuse a bride for smiling? We've enjoyed ex-Miss Babcock for two years and lament over the fact that in her new role as Mrs. Heath she must leave us—not that we blame her, for he is rather nice. Incidentally, seeing Mrs. Heath plays so much tennis, "Was it a love game?"

ELINOR SCHLEMMER

A slight flush, a shy glance, and sweet smile from Elinor—to whom? Although she is very demure and reserved in classes, in the private life of the "Dorm" Elinor Schlemmer is often found to be the center of the noise-makers. Ssh! This is a secret, don't let her know.

MISS WATERMAN

What happened to our "Flunks" in French after the midyears? Suddenly we were "French-minded." French at meals, in corridors, and ultimately a French Club! Sunny Miss Waterman (for sunny is the word) radiated into our studious life and made our fears of "The Monster French" a thing of the past. Here's to you — "Come back next year."

MINNETTE FRANKLIN

Tittering between a few "Hee Haws" and dear Minnette is having one of her spells—or shall we say spills? Perhaps this is a little too personal so we'll talk about the spells — there are spells of laughter, spells of reading, spells of peanuts, and spells of walking. In fact everything Minnette Franklin does is by spells—and spills.

MAZIE FORMAN

Umpa! Umpa! Boop-a-doop — hails from Edgartown, a duel character. Sometimes as "Mata Hari" and other times as "Betty Boop," Maizie Forman is a continual source of fun and amusement. With such art she is not without romance. Is it needless to ask why "The Shiek" is Mazie's favorite recording?

CHARLOTTE BRINK

A crimson blush, sweeping of dark eyelashes, and the twicker of the mouth which finally leads to a broad grin from the Eastman flirt. As the year comes to its close, we wonder what will happen to all the broken hearts Charlotte has left behind. Perhaps Mac (the big brute) can take care of this.

(Continued on Page 43)

Top Row—G. Worthen, A. Oberg, J. Cook, D. MacDougall

Middle Row — R. Swanson, D. Grover, P. Williams, A. Thompson, T. Bearse

Bottom Row—M. Stokoe, E. Jenison, C. Siegel, W. Savery, W. Johnson, H. Siegel

WINSOR NOTES

MARSHALL STOKOE

Who is that flaming youth who is always calling us to and from our classes? Why that is Marshall Leland Stokoe, the man from the Island of Nantucket. Although "Marsh" does not take part in any sports, he is a true supporter of them. Since he is leaving us this year, we wish him well in the future.

ALVE OBERG

There is a fellow on our campus who is planning to be an artist at sometime or other. That is Alve Oberg. If you are ever looking for an argument, "Al" is just the one whom you should see. One would wonder just what nationality "Al" is by his depression haircut. If you did not know him, you would think that he had not a care in the world.

WILLIAM JOHNSON

"Bill" came four years ago and there is going to be a big empty space here next year, for he leaves in June. Can you think of anyone off hand who takes a joke better or who works harder? His fancy often turns to what seems to be a very serious flirtation—do you suppose he will win? Our best wishes for the finest luck in the world to go with "Bill," and we hope that he will come back often to visit us.

JOSIAH COOK

The second of the "Cranberry-Boggers" trio. He not only lives here but he lets everybody know it. He helps keep the scholastic record of Winsor up besides playing on all our sport teams. Joe is our Junior School Athletic Director.

WALTER SWANSON

Walter is the Poet Laureate of the Academy. He not only likes to read poetry, but is very capable of composing it. He likes especially to write it to the opposite sex. Perhaps one of the Eastmanites inspires him. Walter has been more active in the field of sports this year than he has been in the past.

GERRY WORTHEN

"Feeling Downhearted?"

Well, I know what to do for that. Just go to Gerry Worthen in room two, and listen to some of his nonsense for a while. "Shorty" is so well acquainted with all the tragedies that happened on the railroads that we wouldn't be surprised to see him president of a large railroad some day.

ALLIN THOMPSON

Allin, "Pete," Thompson is one of the trio of Cranberry-Boggers. He professes to be a plumber of some renown. Pete is a likeable chap as we all know, an ideal room-mate and somewhat of a "Don Juan." He has shown himself to be a fine athlete.

CHARLIE SIEGEL

The better half of our twins believes in burning the "Midnight Oil." Wherever Charlie hails from he is not superstitious as he rooms in apartment thirteen. He plays basketball to please the fair sex.

EDWARD JENISON

Ed, a new-comer, came to us at the beginning of the second half of this year. Being a good mixer, he soon won his way into our friendship. He sports a high-fulooting smoke screen which makes people ask where the pipe is going with the boy.

(Continued on Page 43)

Senior History

(Continued from Page 15)

When fall rolled around again in 1931, we were entered under the title of Juniors. We quickly assembled and chose our class officers, who were as follows:

Albert Halsband ..... President Winifred King ..... Secretary
Lucy D'Attore ..... Vice-President Marshall Stokoe ..... Treasurer
Miss Houston and Mr. Rawson—Advisors

During this school year, we sponsored a candy sale, two food sales, and a Hallowe'en Dance. This last was a great success, for besides the Academy students many of the Alumni and other friends attended.

In the spring, we sponsored the Junior Prom in the Academy gym. We had beautiful decorations, a fine orchestra, and to make it complete, a large attendance. This Prom was our greatest success, both socially and financially. Our greatest task of the year, still ahead of us, was the financing of the Senior Prom which came in June. Instead of holding it in the gym, as formerly, we held it in the Greenwich Inn. The year closed as one never to be forgotten.

Returning in September in 1932, we knew that this was to be the final year of our high school career. This year, as usual, we again organized our class and carefully chose our class officers. Albert Halsband was elected President for the third successive year. Lucy D'Attore was elected Vice-President, Winifred King, Secretary, and William Johnson, Treasurer. Our class advisors were unanimously chosen to be Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

Billy Horgan, a popular member of our class, was unable to be in our graduating class this year because of illness. Billy is greatly missed, not only in the school, but in the community as well. We are all hoping that he will be seen in his old place next year.

In October, we gave another Hallowe'en Social in the gym. This was given especially to get everybody acquainted, and it certainly succeeded in doing so. At the close of the last basketball game of the season we put on a Taxi Dance, which was also something new and quite successful.

We are now looking forward to our Senior Prom and our graduating exercises which are to be held in June. These will conclude our high school careers.

We, as a class, want to say that the four years of our life at the Academy have been well spent, and are years that will never be forgotten.

Junior School

(Continued from Page 23)

Henry Kaplan, our friend from New York, is taking a full course in the Academy. He entered the second grade and expects to finish the high school. He is fitting himself for housemaster and later hopes to attain the Headmaster's position.

William MacDougall, the doughty Scot, is happy, debonair, and justly proud of his scholastic attainments. He is figuring on becoming a millionaire. Remember the Junior School, William, when your ambitions are realized.

Richard, whose surname is Howatt, is a small boy noted for his wit, observation, and quick speech. He really studies when he cannot play. His home is in Boston which, doubtless, accounts for his erudition.

And our day students are interested and faithful through rain and shine. Arthur May from Apponaug has been attending several years. He is gentlemanly, dutiful, and of unquestioned loyalty.

Grace Menzies, the wee one, comes from Providence, is brim full of pep, loves her books with all her heart and is the pet of the Junior School.

Philip Dow, the tall, good-looking housemaster, has been a good friend to the boys and girls, especially to those of the frailer sex who seem to have need of special care and protection.

Junior History

(Continued from Page 17)

A Straw Ride to a cottage at Johnson's Pond was held where the Juniors and their guests enjoyed refreshments and games. On February 3, the Juniors presented in the chapel, Captain Stanley Osborne, who lectured on New Zealand and Australia.

Their first attempt in the social life of the school was in the form of a Saint Patrick's Dance. The entire school attended, making the affair a success.

The Dragon, the Juniors' monthly publication, was well received this year.

So as its Junior year is nearing completion, the Class of 1934 looks forward with much eagerness and delight to the last and most coveted period of a high school career, THE SENIOR YEAR.

Alumni

(Continued from Page 21)

being History. "Kay" belongs to the Phi Sigma Beta and participates in all sports. She has received high honors in Spanish and class honors for the first semester of her Sophomore year.

George Card, the would-be-minister of his class, is at home in his father's employ.

Dorcas Carpenter and Lillian Peterson are students at the Memorial Hospital, Pawtucket.

George Halsband, the saxophone twin to "Al," is attending Rhode Island State.

Daisy Kettelle, valedictorian of her class, is still teaming with "Kay." Her scholastic standing is on a par with her room-mate's.

Ray Mitchell is a student at Brown University. "Cross our hearts" we wish him luck.

Elsie Miller, one of the Frenchtown students, is now married to Bido Merca. She has a child, Marion.

Helen Rathburn is at the Crawford Allen Hospital.

Malcolm Rawlinson, the other would-be-minister of his class, is living in Woonsocket. He has been married since November, 1932, to Miss Evelyn Moss.

Way down in Alabama we hear that Wilford Smith is attending the Alabama University.

Evelyn Hamilton has taken the fatal plunge and is now Mrs. Lloyd Proulx, residing in West Warwick.

Gerry Alberghane is employed in the office of Bent's Boat Yard.

John Anderson is also attending Rhode Island State.

Edward Ward has gone another step toward the ministry by entering the Gordon Theological School at Boston.

Edna Johnson is at the Nurses Training School of the Homeopathic Hospital, Providence.

Irene Johnson has charge of her father's office here in East Greenwich.

"Ed." Weiner, President of the Class of '31, is attending Georgetown University where he is receiving his customary high marks.

The following of the Class of '31 are at home: Israel Brayton, Alice Regan, Muriel Hackney, and Margaret Haire.

Class of 1932

The Salutatorian of '32, Howard Silverman, is taking a Liberal Arts course at Brown University. He has received high honors in Latin, French, and English.

From Bay Path Institute comes word that Doris Hosking is taking a Normal Course. "Dot" is specializing in shorthand. Who knows—maybe we'll be under her instruction some day?

We hear from Rhode Island State again that Benton Rosen, otherwise known as "Feet," is specializing in Biology.

Evelyn Oates still maintains her popularity at R. I. State.

Mary Nichols is employed by a local concern.

Theodora Gleason, Valedictorian of '32, is doing well at Pembroke.

Mary Williams is taking a secretarial course at Katharine Gibbs.

When last heard from Raphael Guzman was enrolled at New York University.

Adella Olson has transferred from American University to Clark University at Worcester.

Of the three Panamarians of last year's class we find Clementina Villalaz is engaged, Diana Weeden is at a school in the Canal Zone, and Carol Weeden is at home.

David Horowitz is with Weiner at Georgetown.

Ethel Keehn is attending Katharine Gibbs.

Of the Class of 1932 we find the following at home: Winifred Symons, Murray Tallman, Herman Geller, and Edward Thompson.

Winsor

(Continued from Page 39)

DONALD MacDOUGALL

Donald is the baby of Winsor, but he will tell you differently! He likes vivid colored sweaters with his bright suspenders. Mac entered to be a Parallel Bar expert and his experiment has proved successful. His wonderful friendship will be missed next year if he does not return.

THURLOW BEARSE

Looking for a scholar? Well, go to room sixteen and there you will find "Thud" Bearse. The third of the famous "Cranberry-Boggers" trio from Cape Cod. Bearse excels in studies as well as in sports. We wish you the best of luck, "Thud," keep up the good work.

WARD SAVERY

The quiet master of ceremonies at our weekly meetings is the other occupant of room sixteen. Ward is liked by all and he has had no difficulty in being of much interest to the Eastmanites. Ward has taken part in sports and has proved his value to the Academy.

HARRY SIEGEL

The other half of the twins is always asking questions, especially about the time. Harry, although he came to us this year from Olney, made the first team in Basketball, and has high expectations of proving himself a good player. Here is luck to you, Harry.

Eastman

(Continued from Page 37)

VIOLA TIBBETTS

A late-comer and a welcome one from Chelsea is Viola Tibbetts. She, too, has a contagious smile, and has proven to be a finished outdoor girl. We don't know you very well, "Vi," but we do know we would like to have you back next year.

MISS WALLOE

"Phaedo" (Angel Puppy), "Green Pastures," "Pete," "Ivan, the Terrible," and we've lost track of the others—sit in their stately position and guard over the fair maidens of "Eastman Dorm." Astrid Walloe has proven to be a scholar of numerous subjects besides a collector of beasts. In spite of much knowledge, a day does not pass without her acquiring something new.

MERLYN TOWNE

Not so many smiles would be present if it were not for Merlyn's willingness to let us use her iron. While back on the subject of smiles we mustn't omit her spontaneous "Haw-haw-haw!" Merlyn came back from her vacation relieved from her everyday tasks. Willimantic is not so very far from Boston is it? Yet Merlyn doesn't lose her appetite.

PATIA CROWELL

"Sure, of course you may"—whether it be clothes, money, or even her time Pat Crowell gives until it "hurts," even to the point of getting up at five A. M. to make someone's hair presentable for classes. Then, too, Pat has proven to be a very efficient basketball manager and an ardent tennis player.

MARY HUNT

Pop! a waft of giggles and fun-loving Mary is again in action. In the midst of our supposedly uninterrupted study hour, Mary has the unforgivable habit of bursting bags. There is another side to Mary, in fact two more sides, can we ever forget the flurry of books from the third floor or her two-timing?

FLORENCE PERRY—
DOROTHY BOWSER

Every group has its comics and in Room 25 we find our dear Mutt and Jeff, our only roommates. Both planning to be librarians we find them at this early age in the midst of epistles and poems—reason enough for glasses? If you happen to be awakened by, "How is oo, darlin', this mornin'?" do not flatter yourself to think you are being spoken to. At first it was goldfish and upon their death they were replaced by Warothy, a "de-ar" turtle. Dot is planning to go to Ohio Wesleyan; confidentially, Dot, who is going with you? She is not the only one that takes a riding. With Skidmore in view Billy stands the fear of becoming a "sissy."

In the cold, weird, wee hours of morning sh, hush! could be heard this winter and a troupe of girls would be—well, we must humbly confess our "midnight feasts." Dear Faculty, "Our fate is in your hands."

Essay on John Milton

(Continued from Page 24)

"Yes, my life during that period was swayed with a great passion for the love of beauty and culture. I loved the trees, the birds, the flowers and all of God's creations.

"With the beginning of the Civil War in 1642, I became a different man. I fought for the cause of Puritanism with a bitterness and irony that can be found only in a soul hardened and embittered. In 'Areopagitica' I argued heatedly for freedom of the press. Later, I am ashamed to say it, I stooped so low as to deal in personalities, often becoming vulgar in my Political Pamphlets. During this whole period, struck with blindness as I was, I was just the opposite from what I had been in my youth.

"With the restoration of Charles II in 1660, we Puritans suffered persecutions. I was forced to go into hiding for a while, but felt myself lucky that I suffered nothing worse. It was during these years that I wrote my greatest works, the first, an epic called 'Paradise Lost'. You know the story of it, how Satan was cast out of Heaven into Chaos; how he desired to get revenge upon God by destroying His newly created world. It ended with the expulsion of our first parents, Adam and Eve, from the Garden of Eden.

"This was followed later, upon the suggestion of a friend, by 'Paradise Regained'. I consider this my greatest work, but some say it deals too much with theology. It is the story of the temptations of Christ and His regaining of Heaven for all mankind.

"Now I am working upon what will be probably my last contribution to the world. I have named it 'Samson Agonistes' as I am telling the story of Samson of the Old Testament. How peculiarly our lives are similar! He was blind even as I am; he was betrayed by his wife and I have had trouble with mine.

"My life has been dominated by two great passions; the struggle between good and evil and the love of beauty. I have sacrificed much for the cause which I hold dear. I have tried to live an upright and honest life. I wonder, does that second period of hate and bitterness overshadow the other of love and beauty?"

The fire-light faded away, carrying with it the picture of the old, broken man. I awakened to the realization that I had been dreaming of one who had long since passed away. Thoughtfully I rose, and walked slowly toward home, dreaming again of this man who had lived a life of dual personality. From the loving kindness of a child he had turned to the harsh bitterness of a stern and unrelenting Puritan.

SENIOR PLAY

ON Friday night May 26, the class of 1933, most capably assisted by the Post-Graduates presented to a fine audience the "Widow In Green". This whimsical and charming comedy, was enhanced by the new scenery which was built by Josiah Cook and which was presented to the school as the gift from the Class of 1933 for the continuation of dramatics at the East Greenwich Academy.

We often wonder if a play of this nature is well appreciated, for the "Widow In Green" represents a new phase in educational dramatics. It brings forth a cultural value to the school audience and a social value to the community. Moreover it develops in the student actor a sense of poise and the ability to creditably create a stage personality. Cheap and tawdry plays for revenue only are not included in the class of entertainment represented by our Senior Play.

The new era of school plays has come, ushering in royalty plays that give students an imaginative stimulus, a breadth of social understanding and poise of manner which is very worthwhile and in addition provide real amusement for the audience.

Thus we hope, by having produced such a successful vehicle we have elevated to a higher plane this phase of extra-curricula activities at the East Greenwich Academy.

The cast was as follows:

Angelica	Florence Perry
Lady Rumley	Patia Crowell
Henry	Gerry Worthen
Sue	Dorothy Bowser
The Whitford Boy	William Briston
The Harkness Girl	Lucy D'Attore
Tommy Shannon	Ward Savery
Mr. Heddlety	Thurlow Bearse
Mrs. Van Studdiford	Marion Holbrook
Louise	Lena Carcieri
Mrs. Liddy	Winifred King

HUMOR

A colored maid answered the telephone.

"Yas'm," her mistress heard her say. And a second time.

"Yas'm," then she added: "It sho is," and hung up.

The telephone rang again immediately and the girl made identically the same replies, then disconnected.

"What kind of a conversation was that, Lucy?" she asked. "What did they want?"

"Well, they asked if this was the Blank house and I said yes'm, and then they asked if Mrs. Blank was home and I told them yas," she answered. "Then they said, 'Long distance from Washington,' and I said, 'It sho was.' "

* * *

"The full fury of the storm burst upon us so suddenly," related the tornado victim, "that in an instant the house was demolished and scattered to the four winds of Heaven. How I escaped being torn to pieces I don't know—"

"By jove," exclaimed Mr. Meek, "that reminds me. I quite forgot to post my wife's letter!"

* * *

Teacher: "Are you sure this is a purely original composition?"

Bill: "Yes, ma'am; but you may find one or two of the words in the dictionary."

* * *

COLLEGE STUFF

Prof: "Why don't you answer me?"

Frosh: "I did—I shook my head."

Prof: "Well you can't expect me to hear it rattle 'way up here!"

* * *

A man who had been knocked unconscious by an auto, was carried to a nearby filling station. When he came to, he leaped to his feet with a yell, and started running. When finally captured he explained that the first thing he saw when he opened his eyes was a big "SHELL" sign—and somebody was standing in front of the "S."

ABSENT MINDED

The mill foreman came upon two darkies walking slowly up the road, single file.

"Say, you, why ain't you worthless niggers working?"

"We'se working, boss, sho' nuff. We'se carrying this plank up to the mill."

"What plank? I don't see any plank."

"Well, fo' de lawd's sake, Abe! Ef we ain't gone an' forgot de plank!"

* * *

As Miss Walloe alighted from a train, one brakeman shouted to another: "Jump on her, Bill; run her down by the elevator; cut her in two and bring the head end up to the depot!"

Miss Walloe fainted.

* * *

Walter Swanson: "Can you think of anything more utterly useless than silk stockings?"

Billy Perry: "Not unless its the things that stand on the street corners watching them."

* * *

Dr. LeBaron: "When the Prodigal son came home, what happened?"

Eliz. Crawley: "His father ran to meet him and hurt himself."

Dr. LeBaron: "Hurt himself?"

Eliz. Crawley: "Yes, it says, his father ran to meet him and fell on his neck."

* * *

William Menzies: "If the Dean doesn't take back what he said this morning I'm going to leave college."

Borden Nichols: "What did he say?"

William Menzies: "He told me to leave college."

* * *

INQUISITIVE STUDENT

Professor: "I will now use my hat to represent the planet Mars. Are there any questions before I go on?"

Student: "Yes, is Mars inhabited?"

AUTOGRAPHS

EAST GREENWICH ACADEMY

132ND YEAR

On Narragansett Bay

Post Graduate, College Preparatory, Commercial and Music Courses

COLLEGE ENTRANCE CERTIFICATE PRIVILEGE

•

All Athletics — Fine Gymnasium

Moderate Rates

Separate Junior School

•

SEND FOR CATALOGUE

Ira W. LeBaron, A.B., Ph.D., D.D., Headmaster

East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Your Graduation Suit Is Here

We Are Featuring Blue Serge Suits with White Flannels
At New Low Prices

Metcalf Blue Serge Suits $15.00 White Flannels $3.95

Single or Double Breasted

BEN SOLOMON

EAST GREENWICH, RHODE ISLAND

Everything

Always Deliciously Fresh

at

Maille's Bakery

McKENNEY
Jeweler — Optician
Bridge Prizes — Graduation Gifts
Fine Watch Repairing
East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Compliments of

Henry's Store

Main Street East Greenwich

William G. Browning & Sons, Inc.

Stationery . . Books . . Home Furnishings

MAIN STREET
EAST GREENWICH

Loans Without Publicity . . .

To reliable people, lawful interest, strictly confidential. $10 to $300 for personal needs, taxes and bills.
No Delay

Finn Finance Corporation
428 Main St., East Greenwich, R. I.

Compliments of

The Enterprise Store
Shoes and Furnishings
East Greenwich, R. I.

Greenwich Hardware & Paint Co.
HARDWARE — PAINTS — CUTLERY
FARMING IMPLEMENTS
Main Street, East Greenwich

THE H. V. ALLEN ESTATE AGENCY

Real Estate and Insurance

EAST GREENWICH RHODE ISLAND

EAST GREENWICH DAIRY COMPANY

•

MILK AND CREAM

ICE CREAM OF QUALITY

When Motoring . . .

Stop at the Dairy on the Hilltop

Student Instruction Aerial Photography

WINGS, INC.

Charter Trips

RHODE ISLAND STATE AIRPORT Telephone HOpkins 5213

Compliments of

Charles Sweet

Compliments of

OLSON'S
GARAGE

JOHN F. CASHMAN

Everything in Athletic Goods

We Invite You to Visit
Our New Location

71 EXCHANGE PLACE
PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Koch's Pharmacy

The Quality Store

Johnson & Johnson and Bauer & Bauer
First Aid Supplies

Winsol and A. D. S. Products

Parker and Chilton Pens

Compliments of

CHARLES T. ALGREN

General Contractor

●

158 Spring Street East Greenwich, R. I.

Telephone — East Greenwich 151

MARTIN R. JOHNSON

PLUMBING . . . HEATING . . . TINSMITHING

Repair Work a Specialty

Residence E. Greenwich 624-J Tel. E. Greenwich 624-W

EAST GREENWICH, R. I.

SYSTEM

The Basis of Successful Thrift

A small, regular deposit for most people, an easier and more successful plan than a larger amount deposited at irregular intervals.

Your Account Will Grow Steadily with a Small Deposit Every Week or Every Month

UNION TRUST COMPANY

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

EAST GREENWICH, RHODE ISLAND

EAST GREENWICH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

"In the Heart of Little Rhody"

Officers

Charles T. Algren, President
Arthur A. Earnshaw, Vice-President
Herbert J. Couper, Treasurer
Morris M. Abrams, Secretary

Executive Committee

Howard V. Allen
Fred M. Browning
Gordon B. Ewing
Thomas J. Freeman
Arthur Izzi
Harry R. Lewis
Charles A. McKenney
Joseph D. Petty
Howard S. Proctor
Herman N. Silverman

Champlin Lumber Company

BUILDING
MATERIALS

West Warwick
Valley 910

East Greenwich
East Greenwich 5

Compliments of

New Idea Shoe Store
Shoes for the Entire Family
East Greenwich, R. I.

Compliments of

George A. Bergstrom

Compliments of

East Greenwich Motors
INC.

FORD

28 NORTH MAIN STREET
EAST GREENWICH, R. I.

Compliments of

Rhode Island Pendulum

The Most Widely Read Weekly Newspaper in Kent County

JOSEPH D. PETTY, Editor

WHAT CHEER PRINTING COMPANY

46 Chestnut Street

Providence, R. I.

•

CATALOG and DIRECT MAIL

PRINTERS

Compliments of

Charles L. Phillips

M.D.

Compliments of

A. H. ESTEN

Compliments of

DR. P. A. DUFFY

Compliments of

Greene's Flowers

Eldredge Ave., East Greenwich, R. I.

Oscar W. Lindberg

FLORIST

EAST GREENWICH, R. I.

Telephone E. G. 672-W or 672-J

Compliments of

Centreville National Bank

Established 1828

1218 Main Street — West Warwick, R. I.

Compliments of

HERMAN SILVERMAN

Graduation Shoes and
Sport Shoes of All Kinds
Now on Display

If You Want Value . . If You Want
HI-GRADE REPAIRING
You Will Get It At

Caluori's

233 Main Street, East Greenwich
Opposite M. E. Church

Compliments of

Fenwick G. Taggart, M. D.

Compliments of

REYN'S STORE
Main Street
East Greenwich, R. I.

Compliments of the

East Greenwich News

At Your Service . . .

McClure's Music Shop
Main Street
East Greenwich, R. I.

Refrigerators
Radios - Radio Supplies

Compliments of

Leo's Barber Shop

285 Main Street

Compliments of

John L. Halsband

"The Newspaper King"

EAST GREENWICH, R. I.

Greenwich Beauty Parlor

Thermique Permanent Waves

Bobbed Hair $8 — Long Hair $10

Including Shampoo and Finger Wave

Greenwich Theatre

Where Courtesy Dwells and Sound Excels

Evening Showing Commences

6:30 - 8:30 P. M.

Sunday — 3:00 P. M. Continuous

The House De Luxe

Ever Since 1878 Academy Students

Have Been Our Customers

W. R. SHARPE HARDWARE CO.

Sporting Goods — Fishing Tackle

Flashlights — Cutlery — Thermos

Bottles — Paints and Varnishes

EAST GREENWICH, R. I.

Opposite Court House

All Printing Plates

Used in This Issue

Produced by

ADVERTISERS' ENGRAVING COMPANY

"Picturize Your Product"

66 ORANGE STREET

PROVIDENCE, R. I.

GAspee 7094 — GAspee 7095

WARWICK COAL CO., INC.

Dealers in

COAL

●

Cowesett - - - Rhode Island

Telephone East Greenwich 7

Compliments of

THE EAST GREENWICH

FREE LIBRARY

Compliments of

D'ATTORE'S MARKET

Compliments of

Hanaford's Grocery

HERB MURRAY

Sporting Goods

School and Club Equipment
Uniforms a Specialty

23 Years in the Business

72 ORANGE ST., PROVIDENCE, R. I.
Phone GAspee 1684

With Southern New England Supply Co.

Frederick S. Nock

NAVAL ARCHITECTS
AND YACHT BUILDERS

C. T. Bent, President

✧

TELEPHONE EAST GREENWICH 10

East Greenwich - - Rhode Island

Compliments of

PIGGLY WIGGLY STORE

Compliments of

Murray's
Drug Store

Compliments of

JIGGER'S
DINER

•

Greater Assortments . . .
Better Values . . . Lower Prices . . .

are the advantages you'll find shopping at
Rhode Island's Largest Department Store

THE OUTLET COMPANY

PROVIDENCE STATION WJAR

Stationery . . Toilet Requisites . . Drugs . . Sundries
Soda . . Ice Cream

We have a complete Greeting Card Service Department in our store. Here you will find the unusual assortment that will express the Sentiment of the Season.

Earnshaw Drug Company
The Rexall Store
EAST GREENWICH, R. I.

MAIN STREET GARAGE, Inc.
East Greenwich and Apponaug

SOUTH COUNTY BUICK CO.
Wakefield

VALLEY SALES CO.
W. Warwick

Sales — BUICK — Service

JOE GORMAN
and
J. KING GORMAN

•

Proprietors of
King Gorman Fish Co.

Compliments of

Kenneth W. Scott
D.M.D.

East Greenwich, R. I.

Compliments of

SANDLER'S
SHOE
CO.

LEWIS FARM CHICKS

R. I. Reds . . Barred Rocks . . White Leghorns

Quality Stock for Flock Improvement at Reasonable Prices

HARRY R. LEWIS
EAST GREENWICH RHODE ISLAND

Compliments of

ARNOLD'S GARAGE

Compliments of

STUART'S DRESS SHOP

Compliments of

"THE DRAGON"

LOUIS OLIVER

1933 "Crimson" Photographer

333 WESTMINSTER STREET

PROVIDENCE - - RHODE ISLAND

•

We, the Class of 1933, do most heartily thank all who have in any way contributed to the financial success of this 1933 Crimson

•

Compliments

of

"The Faculty"

1933