Graduating Class

Creighton "Creight" Wellen

Scientific Diploma R. I. State College

"Creight" our dignified president, serious and business-like when necessary and yet always ready for a good time and keenly interested in athletics—a fine combination. We all wish him every success possible and feel sure he'll get it. Here's to you, "Creight".

Basketball (2), Junior Prom Committee (3), President of Class (3) (4), Football (4).

Adelle "Dell" Brown

Classical Diploma — Undecided

"Dell" has proved a real addition to our class this year, contributing much to our class activities. Besides this "Dell" has a most pleasing personality, is a capable Ass't Editor, and an honor student. Good luck to you, Dell.

Play Competition (4), Senior Play (4), Crimson Board (4).

Elizabeth "Libby" Crawley

Classical Diploma — Wheaton

She leads our honor roll, captains our basketball squad, heads our Crimson staff, acts in our plays, and is an all-around good sport. Versatile is the word which best describes Libby.

Tennis (2) (3) (4), Champ (2), Gym (2) (3) (4), Basketball (2) (3) (4), Capt. (4), Vice-Pres. of Class (2) (3), Jr. Prom Com. (3), Play Competition (3), Vice-Pres. Student Council (4), Senior Play (4), Ed.-in-Chief of Crimson (4), Valedictorian (4).

Virginia "Ginny" Dow

Academic Diploma — Wellesley Training School

Fall River sent us "Ginny" and we're glad they did, for she's one of our peppiest members. Gym, horseback riding, and dancing are her favorite sports, all of which she does well. Her exuberant grin and pep make her well liked by all

Gym (3) (4), Play Competition (3).

Marjorie "Erkie" Ekstrom

Academic Diploma — Homeopathic Hospital

Who doesn't know this energetic, good natured, peppy youngster! She's a good pal to everyone, a fine student, and a basketball player of ability. What more need she be?

Gym (2) (3) (4), Basketball (2) (3) (4), Senior Play (4).

Marion "Kiddly" Frye

Commercial Diploma — Undecided

A shy little Miss with a dazzling smile and a ready hello. She knocks down the A's without effort, places second on our honor list, and first on our list of good pals. People like you just have to be successes, Marion.

Salutatorian (4).

Dorothy "Dot" Haddock

Academic Diploma — R. I. State College

Another of our one year members and she certainly has made the most of her last year. A fine athlete, a capable actress, one of our best dancers, and a real friend. Best of luck, Dot.

Basketball (2) (3) (4), Senior Play (4).

Ralph "Hoppie" Hopkins

Business Academic Diploma — Undecided

"Hoppie's" middle name should be "Speed". We refer to his promptness in ringing the bells during our Junior year, also in rushing a certain Eastmanite. Besides this he is very industrious and is certain to make good.

Basketball Manager (3), Play Competition (3).

Herman "Hymie" Jacobson

Scientific Diploma — R. I. State College

"Hymie" is an all-around man, managing our finances, working on all our committees, breaking our hearts, and being a real pal to all. You're a "regular guy" Hymie.

Basketball (2) (3) (4), Baseball (2) (3) (4), Junior Prom Committee (3), Class Treasurer (3) (4), CRIMSON Board (2) (4), Business Manager (4), Proctor (4).

Francis "Frannie" Kenyon

Academic Diploma — Undecided

"Frannie", another quiet member of our class, evidently believes that "actions speak louder than words". And who hasn't seen him "act" in gym! A really outstanding gymnast, and an all-around athlete everywhere. You're O. K., Frannie!

Gym (2) (3) (4), Captain (3) (4), Soccer (2), Baseball (2) (3) (4), Football (3) (4), Basketball (4), Track (4).

Elizabeth "Lib" Littlefield

Academic Diploma — Undecided

A "red-headed whirlwind" on the basketball floor, a "temperamental little spitfire" in our play, an honor student, and one whose ambitions and efficiency will carry her far. That's "Lib".

Gym (2) (3) (4), Basketball (2) (3) (4), Play Competition (3) (4), CRIMSON Board (4).

Fred "Nick" Nickerson

Academic Diploma — R. I. State College

Another "big" addition to our class this year. Too bad he didn't come sooner, for he has helped in all our sports and activities and made himself liked by all with his lazy drawl and good-naturedness. Success to you, Nick.

Co-Captain Football (4), Basketball (4), Capt. Baseball (4), Play Competition (4), Senior Play (4), CRIMSON Board (4).

Carter "Rasp" Norwood

Academic Diploma — Bates College

Carter is that funloving, lazy, athletic, witty young man from Philadelphia. Many a class has been brightened by a witty remark from him. You're a real pal, Carter, and we're all for you.

Basketball (3) (4), Football (4), Track (4), Baseball Manager (4), Student Council (4), CRIMSON Board (4).

Geraldine "Gerry" Portaluppi

Business Academic Diploma Undecided

"Gerry" is the young lady who keeps our class notes, is our goodlooker, dancer, athlete, worker and business woman. What we would have done without your happy grin "Gerry" is more than we know. Good luck to you.

Gym (2) (3) (4), Basketball (2) (3) (4), Play Competition (3), Junior Prom Committee (3), Secretary of Class (3) (4), Senior Play (4), CRIMSON Board (4).

Emma "Em" Quinn

Academic Diploma Undecided

"Em", our faithful standby, always ready to lend her helping hand. Industrious, humorous and friendly, we're sure you'll succeed "Em", you just can't fail with your qualities.

Gym (2) (3) (4), Secretary of Class (2), Junior Prom Committee (3), Vice-President of Class (4), CRIMSON Board (4).

Charles "Charlie" Siegel

Academic Diploma Undecided

How is E. G. A. going to get along without a Siegel? Charlie's been here a long time, and every year he's been right in the midst of it, a good pal, an industrious worker and a fine athlete. We'll miss you, "Charlie".

Baseball (1) (2) (3) (4), Basketball (1) (2) (3) (4), Soccer (2), Junior Prom Committee (3), Play Competition (3), Football (1) (4), Gym (4).

Dorothy "Dot" Symons

Business Academic Diploma Undecided

Bashful? Well, maybe, if you don't know her! She's attractive, dignified, business-like and one grand girl. It's hard to see you go, Dot, but Good Luck in everything you undertake.

Gym (2) (3) (4), Basketball (2), Play Competition (3).

Senior History

It was a dark and stormy night and all the little Seniors gathered around the president and one of the little seniors said, "Creighton, tell us our history." And so, Creighton began: —

It was a bright and sunny day
When we as Sophs entered E. G. A.,
And then to start the year off right,
We had to choose some leaders bright —
To lead our class on to its fame
We chose these, here below — by name: —

President ..... Philip Dow
Vice President ..... Elizabeth Crawley
Secretary ..... Emma Quinn
Treasurer ..... Raymond Gebler

Our class, it numbered twenty-one,
And to be sure we had much fun.
E'en though ourselves not much we led,
In others affairs, it must be said,
We helped whole-heartedly.
Then home for summer months we went
And back again, aft days well spent.
Again our leaders we did choose
And so below we place the news.

President ..... Creighton Wellen
Vice President ..... Elizabeth Crawley
Secretary ..... Geraldine Portaluppi
Treasurer ..... Herman Jacobson

Junior History

As a laughing, happy group of "greenies" entering the old walls of East Greenwich Academy in the fall of 1933, we were soon to learn that the old Alma Mater is a place to be held dear in the hearts of all of us.

Starting out with a burst of initiative, we elected as officers Stuart Chace, president; Helen Olson, vice-president; Elinor Schlemmer, secretary; and Charles Haire, treasurer.

Eager and energetic we attempted a New Year's Ball and succeeded! Later, making a bid in the Play Competition, by our superior acting, we took first place.

Back again we returned in September 1934, raring to go and fired with ambition. The officers, Thomas Linehan, president; Helen Olson, vice-president; Frances Gardiner, secretary; and Dana Babcock, treasurer, were chosen and we were ready to start.

Our first event was a grand Hallowe'en Masquerade over in the gym. It was decorated in a most attractive fashion with autumn leaves and cut flowers.

During the year, we also gave numerous small social gatherings in the Eastman parlors.

Our one hope, now, is to give the Seniors a grand send-off. Every effort is being made to make this a success. Plans are well under way and the time will soon be here.

For our advisors we have been extremely fortunate in having Miss Elsie Waterman, Mr. Arthur Deeks, and Mr. I. Milton Le Baron. Whatever success we have achieved is due in large measure to their industry and inspiration.

Sophomore History

NOISE!! Disorder!! Laughter and merry giggles!! Yes — the silly Sophomores had arrived at good old East Greenwich Academy with all the commotion and unnecessary racket that the stately Seniors and jolly Juniors expected of them. Well, we certainly managed to live up to their expectations!

After we had become somewhat used to our surroundings, our well-known ability for nonsense and frivolity changed to that of solemnness, for we were about to embark on a very important mission — the election of class officers. We had never done anything quite like this before, and it was some battle. But, as usual, the best man wins and here are the results.

Class President	Jane Martin
Class Vice Pres.	Mazie Forman
Class Secretary	Elizabeth Gammons
Class Treasurer	Benjamin Gammons
Advisors	Mr. Barber and Miss Ince

In due time some of us managed to settle down, but of course there are always a certain few who never can and probably never will. However, we did manage to accomplish in the fields of:

SCHOLARSHIP: — Perhaps we consider this the greatest accomplishment of our class. We led the entire school throughout the year. Although it took many hours of hard labor, we are proud of the results.

SPORTS: — We were all very much excited when the basketball season began and most of our girls and boys went out to try their level best at this game. Of course, not many of us received tangible rewards, but we are very proud of those who made the Varsity Team. Anyway, a majority of the Sophomore Class made a fine showing in the Annual Gym Exhibition.

Post Graduates

LISTED as the post-graduate group during the past year were: Gladys Benson, Viola Carcieri, Philip Dow, Howard Corey, Irving Kenyon, Le Roy Seaver, and Thomas McFarlin.

Each one has been a large contributor to the welfare of the school. Gladys' outstanding work in the commercial department has helped to set a new standard for our school, and Viola proved her worth as our assistant coach in Basketball. Of the boys, Dow, Corey, Kenyon, and Seaver have contributed much to our athletic teams. McFarlin, the ever punctual bell-pusher, has added many a bright moment to an otherwise dull day by his keen (?) sense of humor.

We decided not to organize as a regular class, but affiliated ourselves with the Senior group and co-operated wholeheartedly in making all of their endeavors as successful as possible.

Junior School Notes

FIVE strong is the Junior School this year, but it represents strength in many ways. Henry Kaplan heads the list, having completed seven full years of school at the Olney Dormitory. Many of us remember Henry as an impetuous, second-grade boy from Long Island, but he has developed into a dependable young man and a fine scholar. He will be a splendid addition to the upper school, for he expects to complete the course here.

Grace Menzies holds a position of esteem among her fellow men in work and in play. Perhaps her ride from Kingston each morning fits her for the day. This is her third year with us.

Alumni Notes

"GATHER ye round my chillun as ol' granny reminisces fo you. Way back in my memory seems if I see the members of '33 and '34 on parade. As they pass by the old Academy steps, Al Halsband, '33's president tells us he is having a wow of a time as a Sophomore at N. Y. U. Len Anderson says R. I. State was fun, but learning Dad's business is — — O. K. Ethel Capwell is still high on the honor list at R. I. C. E. Lena Carcieri smiles and says she likes her job for the Government. Goody D'Attore is carrying her diploma from the R. I. School of Beauty Culture. Want a wave? Marion Holbrook says N. H. U. is O. K., but there's a rumor that wedding bells will chime for her soon. Jimmy McKinnon and John Menzies tells us R. I. State is swell. Hattie Sweet may now boast that she is an accomplished musician, having studied with Albion Metcalfe of Boston and Reading. Marshall Stokoe invites you all down to "his Nantucket" where he's selling groceries. If you like good-looking sales girls go to the Greenwich Hardware. There, young man, is Theresa Waterman. Another good-looking secretary works in a Providence office. It's our Winnie King.

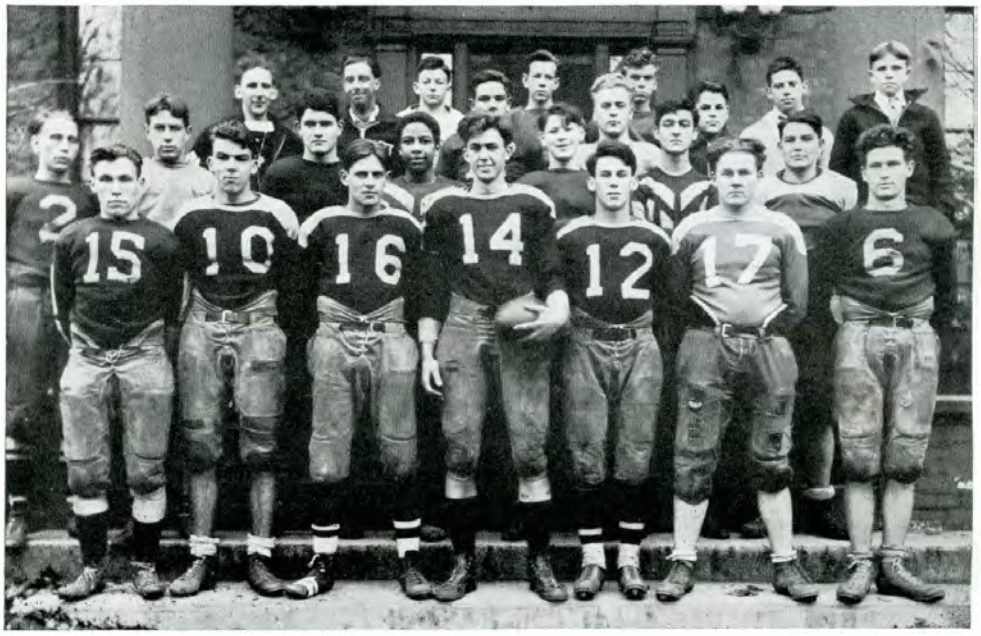

"Now '33 has passed our door
Comes the class of '34
(Whoops—my dears—granny's getting poetical)

Perry Shor, '34's president is in the lead. He tells us Brown's 'all right." Lillian Abrams is jolly as ever. 'Come see me sometime — I work at Tommy's Variety.' Dot Algren says that between having operations, attending R. I. State, and seeing Ken—she's pretty busy. Ken says he wishes Cranston High, where he's finishing up, wasn't so far from R. I. State—but he seems to make it. Vi Carcieri, Irving Kenyon and Phil Dow just couldn't leave the old Academy. (Sure it was the Academy, Phil?) Art Ericson

Football

Co-Capt. Dow

FOOTBALL, after a rest of two years, resumed its place on the Academy athletic program when the first call brought out a squad of twenty-seven very enthusiastic young men.

Howard Allen, an E. G. A. alumnus, was selected as coach of the new team, and he set to work right after the fall term opened to build a team which was to consist of but few who had ever played scholastic football before. In spite of these odds, the squad worked hard for four weeks before daring to face an opponent.

On October 11th we played host to the fast and well-drilled Stonington High School team, and although the Academy team was not on the long end of the score, they showed that they had lots of spirit and were still very much in the game when the final whistle blew. During the closing minutes of the game, Dow threw a "sleeper" pass to Seaver, who ran the last ten yards for our first score of the season. Stonington won the game 12-6.

Co-Capt. Nickerson

The following Friday, we played the Marionapolis Junior College team on our home field, and for one period our team kept our goal line uncrossed. Fran Kenyon and Bill Lindstrom played a great game on the defense, but this was not enough to off-set the weight and speed of the College team, and we were crushed under a 48-0 score.

On November 2nd, we journeyed to Pawtucket to play St. Raphael with the hope of breaking their undefeated record. Failing to exhibit any of the form which we demonstrated in the first period of the Marionapolis game, we were again taken into camp by the score of 20-7. Our only score came early in the third period with Seaver, Straight, and Smith carrying the ball from their own thirty yard line on successive line plunges to St. Raphael's ten, where Dow took it over in two rushes.

Boys' Basketball

Capt. Dow

Coach Howard Allen, again leading the East Greenwich basketball squad, issued the first call for practice which brought out fifteen ambitious candidates, eight of whom were veterans of last year's team. Of these Phil Dow, center on last year's team, was elected captain.

Our first game was a charity affair played at Bristol with Colt Memorial. With only a week of practicing behind our team the game could be called an experimental game, for Coach Allen used almost every man to see how he stood up under fire. We lost the game 21-11.

We officially opened our schedule on Jan. 15th, when we played the School for the Deaf on our home court. We came out on the long end of a 23-17 score, but the game showed that we must sharpen our eyes for the basket a great deal if we wished to keep in the win column. That same week on Jan. 18th, we played host to Classical High, who had one of their strongest teams in recent years; and after a roughly fought game, we came out as winner, 27-13. Nickerson, the left guard, was the star of the game, playing a stella game at guard and being high scorer with 11 points.

We lost our next game with Westerly, at Westerly, 38-27, but on Friday we returned to the win column again by defeating the Oak Bluffs team 25-22. Capt. Dow was the high scorer of this very close game, scoring 14 of his team's 25 points.

On Feb. 5th, we played a return game with Colt Memorial which surely redeemed our loss earlier in the season. The Academy team won easily by a 36-21 score. In this game it was Seaver and Carcieri that did the guarding while Dow and Nickerson bombarded Colt's basket to score 26 points between them. The other game of the week was lost to the West Warwick team on their court, 36-19.

Girls' Basketball

Capt. Crawley

HARD practice, co-operation, and the determination to win was the standing menu for the girls at the beginning of the season. Through the brilliant and instructive guidance of our coach, Miss Ince, and the fighting qualities of our dauntless captain, Elizabeth Crawley, we found the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, as Kent County League champions.

We started the season with a crushing victory over North Kingstown by a score of 19 to 9, which allayed our fears for the battle with Oak Bluffs that also resulted in a victory.

We met Warwick with that same determination and won 26 to 15. But alas, we met our match—and a match it was to the end, for we deadlocked with West Warwick with a 22-22 tie. It put us back a peg, but when we met Warwick, we showed them the difference between 33 and 13.

North Kingstown gave us more competition and a good workout, but we won 27-20. We are compelled to remark on the fine piece of work the cheering squad did at this game. Their lively cheers certainly kept the players stepping.

If ever old E. G. A. fought doggedly, it was at the final meeting with West Warwick to decide the championship. The place was in a continuous uproar and strict concentration was needed on every play.

In the second and third quarter they led us by seven points, but we blocked their every move with the same deadly sureness as Foch when he said, "They shall not pass." The game ended in a tie, and somehow we still think West Warwick was our nemesis, for they gave us a fine exciting game and such a scare.

Baseball

Capt. Nickerson

Coach Swanson's first call for baseball candidates brought out enough men for two full teams. After two weeks of practice, it looked as if we had a team capable of displaying a good brand of baseball. On May 8th, the team elected Nickerson captain, and immediately set out for Fall River for their first game.

Nickerson pitched as good a game as he will probably pitch all year, allowing Durfee Tech only six hits and no earned runs. Durfee scored all their runs on five errors, and since our team did very little with the "willow," won the game 4-0.

We next traveled to Westerly where once again because of weak "stick" work and errors, we came out on the small end of a 12-1 score. Our only run came in the sixth inning when Marden reached first on an error and scored on Dow's triple over the center fielder's head.

We then opened our home schedule playing a return game with Durfee Tech. Dow pitched this game, allowing nine hits for a total of five runs, and lost it 5-0.

Our next game was with Coventry, and the team was in its batting clothes for they knocked out 23 hits for 34 bases. Elmer Straight led the parade with five hits in five times at bat. We scored almost at will, and when the game was over, we had won 21-6.

Gym Team

Capt. Kenyon

The steady buzz of conversation, a laugh floating through the air, and then a few chords struck on the piano, as the doors swung wide and in marched East Greenwich Academy's Gym Team of 1935, ready for their annual presentation after having been drilled for many weeks by Rudolph Swanson, Director of Athletics.

The girls, dressed in red and white gym suits, and the boys in their blue trousers and white jerseys presented a striking picture as they went through the grand march and then into their calesthenics, led by Libby Crawley.

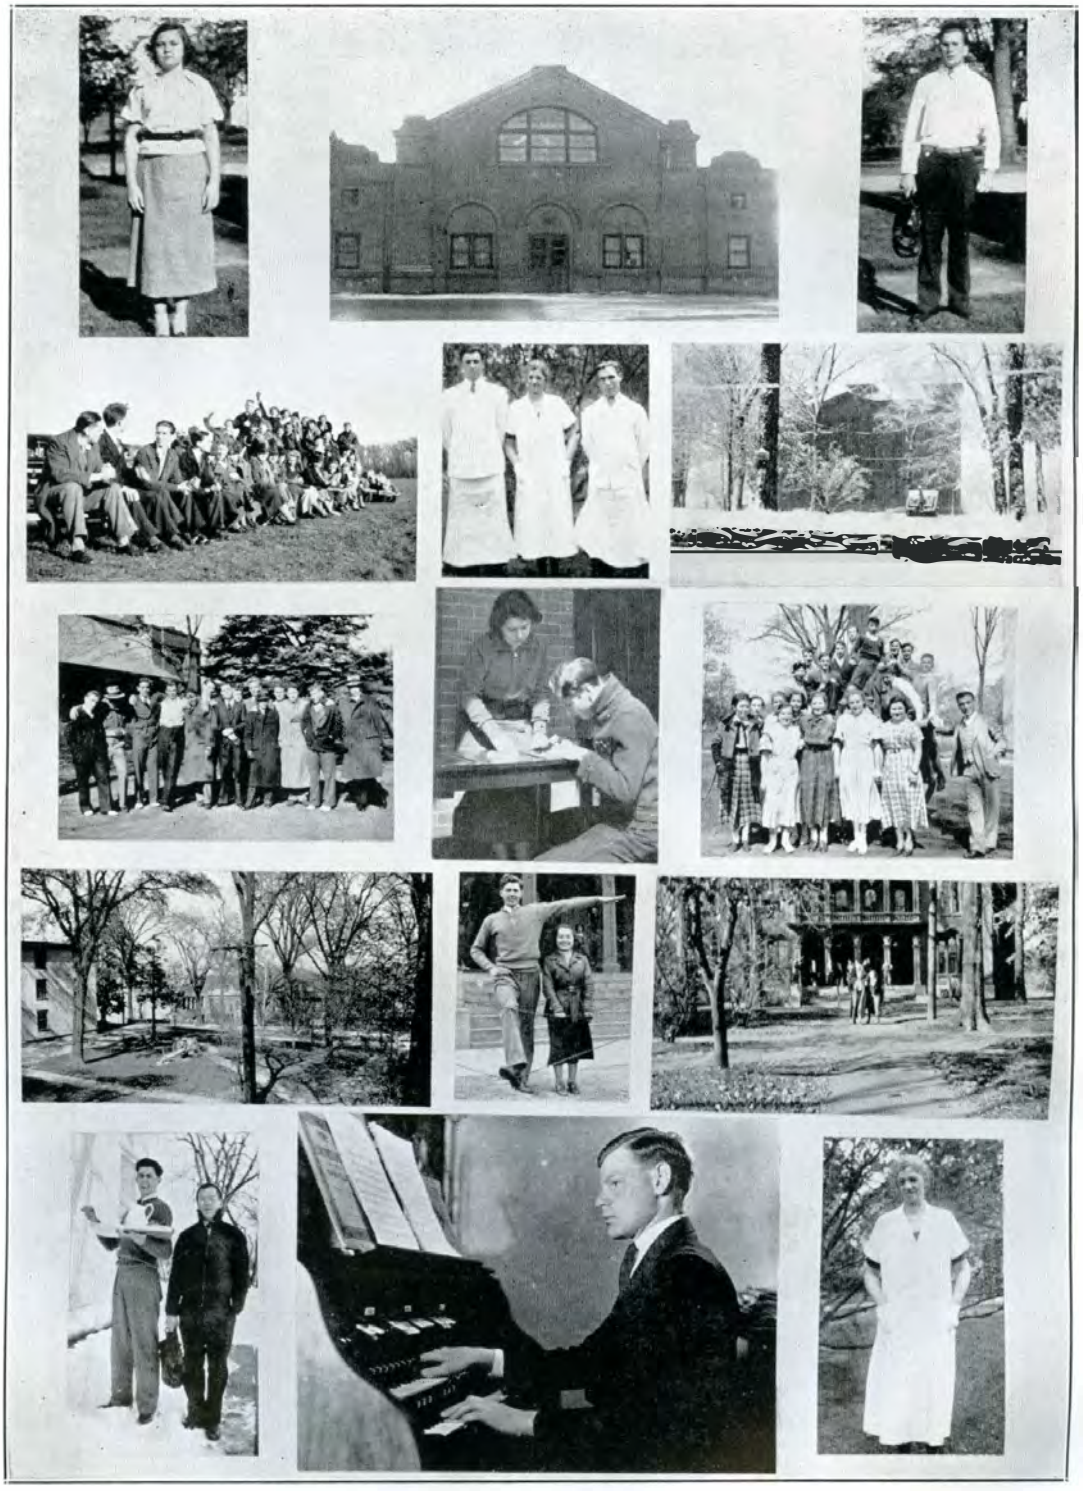

Then, a stifled gasp from the audience, the boys were doing those cut-away vaults on the horse!

The lights were dimmed — silence — and then under various lighting effects, in marched boys and girls for the parallel bar routine. The girls were dressed completely in white with the exception of the small red G on their snappy new white blouses which went with their long white slacks. For this number the boys wore red trousers and white jerseys. This time, however, there was more than one stifled gasp, for many difficult feats were performed, climaxed by Kenyon's grand back-somersault.

Led by Viola Carcieri, we again marched onto the floor, (the girls bedecked with crêpe paper ruffles) and went through a dumbbell routine which really clicked.

Following, the entire team performed on the mats, delighting the audience with its team rolls and headstands, and fascinating them with the realistic wave rolls. Then followed individual tumbling.

Activities

Listen, my children and you shall hear
The things that happened at school this year.

The second Friday after returning to school, the Seniors gave a Senior-Fall Reception. This was a little different and has perhaps inaugurated a new custom at E. G. A.

Our football team ploughed through a rather unsuccessful season, but nevertheless, they showed great fight and perseverance even if they didn't win.

By now, the Juniors had decided that it was time to have something else of a social nature. Accordingly, on October 26, they gave a Hallowe'en Masquerade Dance. Needless to say, a good time was had by all.

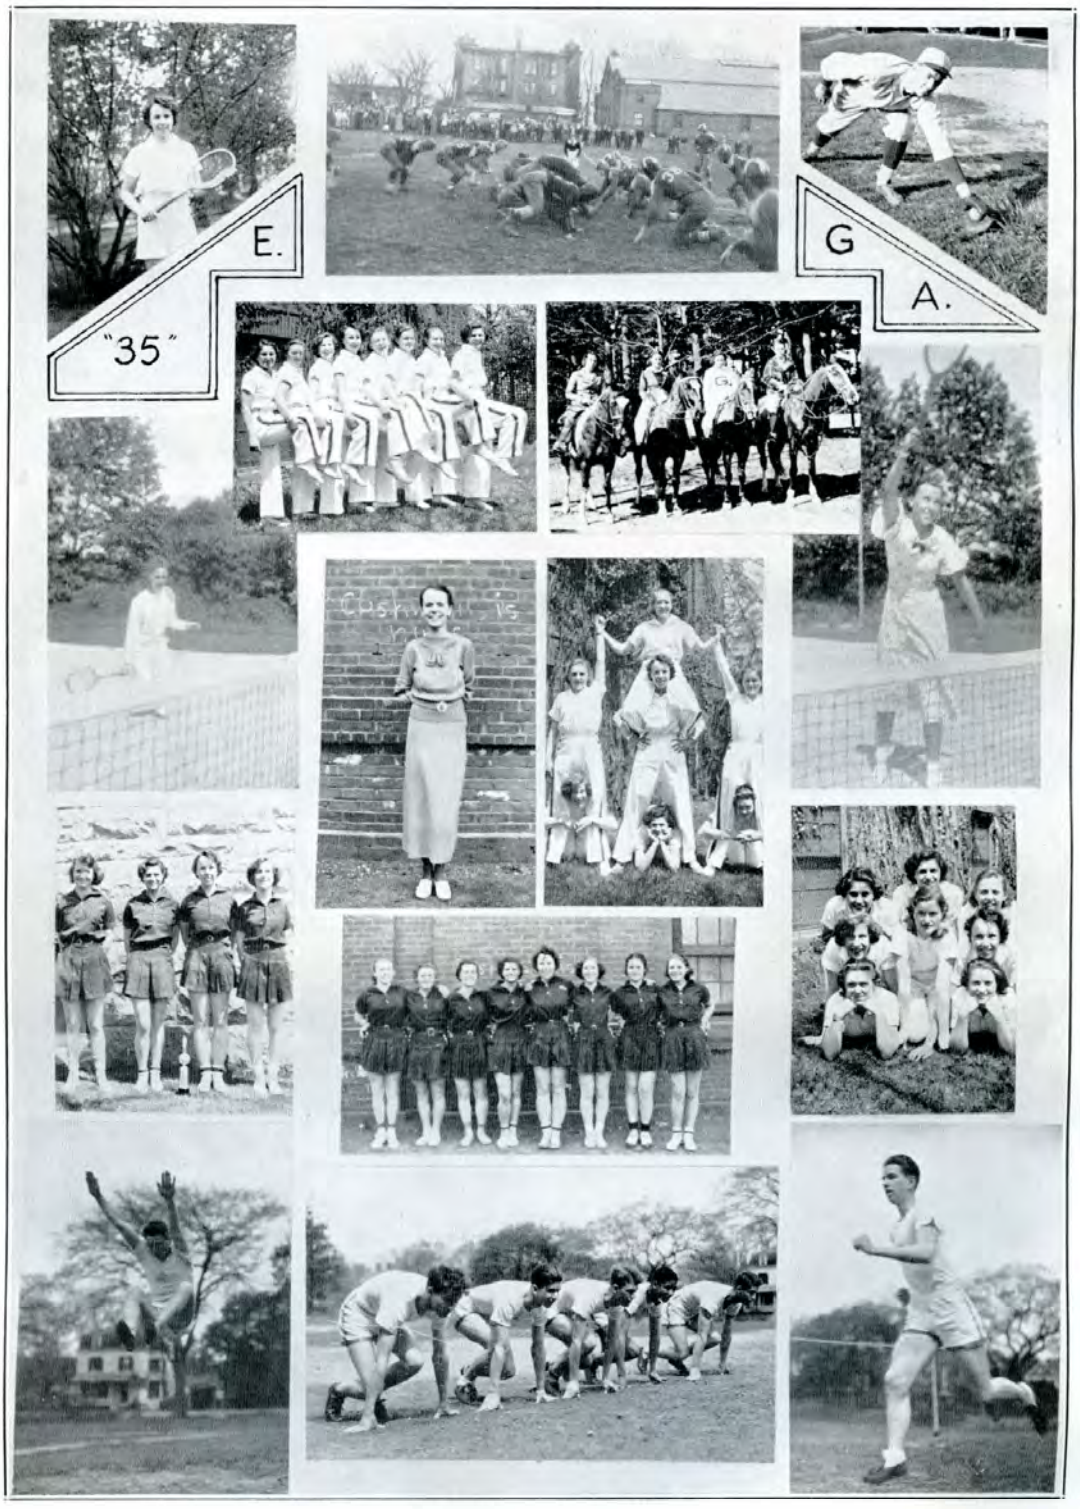

Then things began to happen thick and fast. While both boys and girls were practicing faithfully for basketball, the Seniors presented on Dec. 14th, their widely renowned "Cafe De Luxe." What a sight the gym was! When one entered, they truly thought they were in a genuine night club. Being unique it attracted a fine crowd. (Cash for the Seniors)

Directly following this affair came the Sophomore Christmas Play. This was given twice on the Sunday preceding Christmas before a most appreciative audience; first, in Chapel, and then at the Methodist Church.

Immediately upon returning from Christmas vacation, we were again given a dance, sponsored by the Sophomore Class. It was a New Year's Ball, given January 4th. Thus E. G. A. properly ushered in the New Year.

Then for a space of three months, socials were forgotten and sports came to the forefront.

Activities

The boys passed through a fairly successful basketball season winning one-half of their games and playing well in the others.

The girls were even more successful; they lost only one out of several non-League games; and were victorious in every Interscholastic League game, thereby winning the Kent County Interscholastic Championship and becoming unofficially State Champions. Quite a record, and one of which the Academy can be justly proud.

Leaving sports, we again return to activities of a more social nature. March 30th, rolling around, all the classes competed for the Championship honors in giving plays. It was the Sophs. who took the honors.

Again sports called, and on April 11th, we put on an excellent Gym Exhibition. So excellent was the performance of all, that this affair was the talk of the town.

A few weeks later the Academy fêted the victorious Girls' Basketball Team with a testimonial dinner. As an added feature, Jack Martin, one of R. I.'s leading sport writers, was present. One need not ask if everyone had an enjoyable time!

Student Council

As the clear, crystalline water is wont to spurt and gush forth from its fountain, so does it seem that the urge for self-proclamation and government springs eternal from the hearts of modern youth. In response to this craving, the students of the Academy manifested a desire for a student government organization during the first of the school year.

Having faculty and administration keenly interested and in sympathy with the desire for the permanent establishment of a student governing body, a group composed of faculty members and students met and formulated a constitution which provided for a president chosen by the student body and a council of nine members chosen from the respective classes.

For president of the council the student body elected William E. Lindstrom; the Senior class added to the roster its four allotted candidates, Miss Elizabeth Crawley, Miss Shirley Ferguson, Philip Dow, and Carter Norwood; the Juniors, Miss Italia D'Attore, Thomas Lineham, Joseph Resch; Sophomore-freshmen, Miss Doris Gelatt and John Atwood. The council met and elected Elizabeth Crawley, Vice President; Shirley Ferguson, Secretary; and Philip Dow, Treasurer.

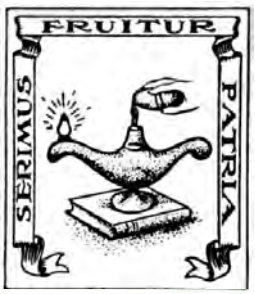

In existence but a scant half year, the council has proved itself to be indispensable, and consequently it has also assured the permanency of the organization at E. G. A. Having laid the foundation and corner stone to future achievement for student councils in coming years by promotion of school spirit and control of social and governmental problems, there is no plausible reason for future student governing organizations in not taking their proper station at the helm of all social and scholastic problems of the school.

Second Row—Gladys Benson, Jane Martin, Christine Dunbar, Vesta Isherwood, Madeleine Dixon, Mazie Forman, Elinor Schlemmer, Merlyn Towne.

Eastman Dormitory

THE Eastman Dormitory was a scene of merry bustle and confusion on the opening days of school, as fourteen girls and teachers became acquainted with each other, and settled in their new homes.

It took time, at first, to learn the "do's and the don'ts," but it was not long before peace and quiet reigned, and a genuine feeling of good will and fellowship has been the keynote of Eastman life ever since.

Miss Giles, in her cozy room on first floor, is the Dean of the hall. We have yet to see her flustered or confused, no matter whether there's a man on the fire-escape or a mouse in someone's room!

On second floor, live six girls and two teachers. Doris Gelatt, who reduces "mountain tops" and studies equally effectively (she leads the school), was also the wistful "Mimi" in the Sophomore Christmas play.

Madeleine: — stalwart walker, archer, and champion blusher, comes to us from Connecticut,—when there's a group of heads together, Madeleine's is in the middle.

Christine Dunbar:—the "little tots" become her immediate friend. Her fine healthy outlook on life is reflected in her frank smile.

The Isherwood girls did not decide to make E. G. A. their home until nearly March. Janice is much the livelier of the two, her smile and laugh are quite infectious. Vesta's quiet poise and sympathy made her immediate friends.

Miss Waterman and Miss Ince entertain us occasionally by chasing each other up and down the corridor with pillows — we like 'em that way!

Mrs. Porter-Shirley's sunny room on the third floor is the central gathering place of the dorm. "Gammy" is the sympathetic listener of all our troubles and the chief sharer of our joys.

Second Row—Roger Barber, Ralph Hopkins, George Burdick, John Atwood, Philip Dow, Stanley Morrison, Howard Corey.

Back Row—LeRoy Seaver, John Riordan, Carter Norwood, Donald Grover, Fred Nickerson, Eldred Mosher, Rudolph Swanson.

Winsor Dormitory

LE ROY SEAVER — Winsor's public enemy No. 1, a member of the triumvirate, and what a debator! How many times we've heard of "dear ol' Wareham!" Taking into consideration that Roy is one of our star athletes and an ever-ready helper, he's a swell guy.

Charles Siegel — the dorm's crooner. We can't see how Bing Crosby holds his job, with Charlie for competition. Charlie always has a cheery greeting (sometimes in German), is a good athlete and a perfect pal.

George Burdick — an orchid to our "Jesse Crawford." How many times we have been lulled to sleep by the soothing tones which "Red" gets out of St. Luke's organ! And is his room ever without some musical instrument in it? Good luck, Red.

Howard Corey — Plymouth's offering from Erin and what a temper! Few people fool around when his Irish is up because sometimes McFarlin, or a broom, or rabbits, or ash can covers come flying out! Don't be fooled tho' — he's a good fellow.

Eldred Mosher — Ripe from the Cape's Cranberry Bog and the dorm's champion for losing free nites. Funny, but one can ever find him around the campus any more. We bet Dot could tell us of his whereabouts!

John Riordan — Winsor's public enemy No. 2, and another member of the triumvirate. He and Seaver have grand debates and now we know that Belmont is much better than Wareham. Besides being the dorm's slowest dresser, he's all O.K.

Senior History

On Hallowe'en we gave a dance.
To this affair, all came to prance
And have some fun at our expense,
But we made money, if that makes sense!
And then to Frenchtown we did go
With all the Seniors — "Yo Heave Ho!"
A merry ride, a merry crowd,
A tired group and singing loud.
Dramatics next our interest took,
And first of all upon our hook
The unsuspecting Freshmen took,
But then, alas, the great must fall
The Sophs did win, of all the gall!
A Valentine Sport Dance next we gave.
(More money for us all to save.)
The Junior-Senior Prom at last —
So grand, that all felt sad when past.
A good way to end up the year
With loads of pep and piles of cheer.
A joyful summer passed by all,
To E. G. A. we turned last fall.
Again we did our leaders pick,
And believe you me, they sure are slick.

President	Creighton Wellen
Vice President	Emma Quinn
Secretary	Geraldine Portaluppi
Treasurer	Herman Jacobson

Just for a change — a small exception —
We gave our Senior-Fall Reception.
The chapel session being done
Each day, a group immense did run
To test our candy bars so good
And swipe a couple, if they could.
A dandy dance, we did display
In December, "De Luxe Cafe."
A dance at which a lot attended

Senior History

And all were sorry when it ended.
A candy sale, the next we tried
And at the movies, side by side
Dispensed of all our candy fine.
(We think it must have been the sign)
Our next sale was a different kind
A food sale, at which one could find
Delicious foods of every kind.
Again a play we gave this year,
Alas, we did not win, I fear.
A final spree, our Sporty Dance
In April we gave all the chance
To come and laugh and have their fun,
Because for us 'most all was done.
A "Crimson Year Book" we put out,
A splendid book without a doubt.
We next did give a Senior play,
Presented on the last of May.
Diplomas now are what we wish
I hope we get them — we poor fish.

Alumni

wears a grin as ever — he's just drawn his pay from the Bostitch. Mildred Frye, who was back for a while at the beginning of the year, says working is more fun—you get paid for that. Frank Gill is a very busy business man. Methinks he likes that Bleachery. Mary Hunt came all the way from New York to join our parades. Helen and Norma are big successes at R. I. State. They don't have to tell us—we read the papers. Hopie Lindberg, darlings, is learning a lot at Edgewood Secretarial School. With her is Alve Oberg who is getting his instructions at Bryant & Stratton. What? Secretaries? Hopie and Al? Pardon Granny a moment, my dears, while she laughs. Helen Olson is next in line. She says R. I. School of Design was interesting, but she likes working better. Smart as ever, that girl Helen. Rosie Waterman is last in line. She had to rush from a class at R. I. C. E. to make the parade. Like it, Rosie? We thought you would.

And now my chillun, Granny says — that's all!"

In the final two games on our schedule, the team showed a strong defense, but a rather weak offense; the result being a loss of both games by small scores. The game at East Providence with Country Day was very exciting, but a bad pill for us, as we lost 12-0. The last game which was with Classical was on our own field; and although we showed the townspeople that we had learned a little football during the season, it was not a good enough brand to win; the final score being 6-0.

Nickerson was captain of the team for the Country Day game; Straight for the Marionapolis game; and Dow for the Stonington, St. Raphael, and Classical games.

Boys' Basketball

On Feb. 15th, we opened our home series with our South County rivals, North Kingstown, and won a decisive victory from them on our court 38-26. Dow was high scorer with 14 points.

After stretching last year's home winning streak from 10 consecutive victories to 15, we lost a very rough game to Westerly 36-19.

On March 5th, we played St. Raphael's, the runner-up for the Class B Championship; and this, the most exciting game which our boys played all year, was won by St. Raphael's in the last minute of play by a foul shot. The score was 37-36. On Friday of that same week we traveled to North Kingstown for a return game in that series. Our boys made it two straight over their southern rivals by winning 29-27. This game also was not decided until the final minutes of play. Nickerson was the Academy star in this game, sinking seven baskets, one of which was the winning basket.

Our last two games were losses for the Academy team; Oak Bluffs beating us in a return game on their court, 45-30, and the Alumni on our court, 20-16.

The individual scoring of the season was as follows:

Dow	116	Tarbox	11
Nickerson	98	Kenyon	4
Carcieri	37	King	2
Seaver	28	Norwood	2
Marden	28	Waterman	2
Siegel	21

Gladys — or "Bennie" — a staunch Islander, owner of radio, goldfish, two alligators, and whose walls are covered with pictures of? — — you're wrong! — — cars!

What a musical trio on third floor! Bennie's radio, Mazie's banjo, and Elinor's guitar! Virginia and Mazie are a pair. Always together and usually dancing. "Ginnie" likes to go horseback riding, Mazie likes to act, and Elinor's quite the seamstress.

"Jane, — may I borrow your iron? Just to take the wrinkles out!" What would we do without someone to tease about her marks or about eating too much?

Miss Newton — chief baton consumer. A grand hiker, — have you ever tried to keep up with her?

Again dressed in their red uniforms, the boys and "Vi" returned to thrill the audience with their superb kips, flips, swings on the horizontal bar, and finally Weld's cut-away and Kenyon's masterpiece—the grand circle—both front and back—to complete this part of the program.

Tarzan at E. G. A.? No, only Kenyon teaming up with King to give the audience a breathing spell and some hearty laughs.

"Oh, he flies through the air,"—"Lawsie" Mott is our man on the flying trapeze. His dislocations while swinging through the air, and May Marden's and Vi Carcieri's toe hang, along with Libby Littlefield's high swinging knee hang, gave the spectators something to think about.

"I saw stars"—Oh, no, my error. It was Italia D'Attore's rhythmic swinging of electric Indian clubs which gave such a beautiful illusion.

What! A nite-club?—No, wrong again. Our girls, who under the instruction of Gerry Portaluppi learned many difficult steps, showed everyone that tap dancing is very simple (?).

Winsor Dormitory

Thomas McFarlin — "He doesn't drink; he doesn't smoke; but with the girls, he is no joke." What a gentle touch he has on that bell button! You're all there, Tom!

Teiji Nozaki — Our touch of the Orient — fresh from Japan but making friends very quickly by his pleasing ways. We'll never forget him. Good luck to you. Teiji!

Leon Aldrich — the kid from Ponkapoag and what a kid! He holds a record for attendance at the theater. Also "Royal" is the only one who can't be made to do anything. Everybody's pal and E. G. A.'s coming athlete.

Edward Jenison — Winsor's "man about town." Have you heard about his financial deals with McFarlin? Ask him sometime. He and his car are very familiar around town. We wonder why?

Stanley Morrison — Winsor's donation to the ministry and we're sure he'll make good. He also has his moments of being a man with the ladies.

Fred Nickerson — 207 pounds of good fun. Who will ever forget the queer noises that come from Room 28? Also one of our stars in E. G. A.'s sports.

Philip Dow — the other occupant of Room 28 and a producer of sound effects for an entire air battle or what ever you wish. Another star in E. G. A.'s athletic enterprises.

Carter Norwood — public enemy No. 3, the third of the triumvirate. A jolly fellow, always getting in and out of trouble, and the despair of all disciplinary teachers.

Arthur Deeks — a great fellow and one of Winsor's best guardians. His "C'mon Son" won't soon be forgotten.

Roger Barber — Mr. Deek's room-mate, and also a guardian of the dorm. A real tennis enthusiast.

Donald Grover — One of the best English teachers to be found anywhere. Long will his Hamlet and his dashes into the hall be remembered.

Girls' Basketball

We played our return game with Oak Bluffs, and altho we played hard we lost; but the fun we had never can be forgotten, for they were most hospitable.

A banquet was held in May in our honor. It seemed to bind all our cherished ties of basketball together for a last time. It may be sentimental, but when we received our miniature basketballs and concluded with the Alma Mater, that spirit for the love of the game, the co-operation and good fellowship seized us once more, and we were a bit misty-eyed when we exchanged autographs.

Social Activities: — Being rather inexperienced in the line of socials, we did not have many of them, but were we thrilled when we won the Play Competition! The Sophomores certainly considered it an honor beating the Seniors and Juniors. We also presented a one-act Christmas play.

As the year draws nigh, so does the Sophomore history, and now we are eagerly awaiting the time when we will be Juniors.

Activities

The Seniors then thought it time for another dance. Therefore, on May 3rd, their Sport Dance was given. A very noticeable feature in this dance was the lack of crepe paper in decorating the gym. It was most attractively done in old newspapers.

Baseball is now holding sway. We hope for a successful season.

Work on the Senior Play is going along very smoothly, and everything indicates a stellar performance. Their presentation will be "Apple Blossom Time," a great hit a few years ago on Broadway.

Also the word from the Juniors is that it's going to be another grand Prom this year. We certainly hope so.

And now for Commencement and diplomas.

From Providence came the Y. M. C. A. gymnasts who contributed a masterful piece of workmanship to our program.

Up went the parallel bars, notch by notch, and up and over went our divers with smooth form and skillful grace and ease.

All performances must close and so for our grand finale we thrilled the audience with two giant fan-pyramids. The lights were turned off while they were being built, and came on again, showing us in the complete formation. It really was a beautiful picture.

After forming a "G" and singing our Alma Mater, we left the gym feeling mixed emotions of fatigue, happiness, satisfaction, pride, and relief.

Winsor Dormitory

Rudolph Swanson — Our versatile science teacher and baseball coach. Here we have the driving power behind our activities. "Most assuredly so, old fellow."

Frederick Hawes — Our business teacher, and he really made Gregg notice old E. G. A. His nightly words "In. — good nite" will never leave our memories.

John Atwood — Carver's second contribution to the Winsor. His slowness in getting to his room at night has long tortured Mr. Deeks. He's a football player and a good center in basketball.

Ralph Hopkins — The little Red Hen with her brood — that's "Hoppee" and his Junior School boys. No longer our bell-hop — but still chasing belles (Ow!)

Baseball

Seaver, Catcher:—A good man behind the plate, and directs an infield well.
Nickerson, Pitcher:—A good arm and brains to accompany.
Dow, First Base:—The nearest approach to a big leaguer the Academy has had in many a day.
Waterman, Second Base:—Short legs, but they can cover ground.
Straight, Second Base:—What a punch in that bat!
Riordan, Shortstop:—Always in there fighting.
Jacobson, Third Base:—The harder they hit them at him, the faster they're out.
Marden, Left Field:—A pitcher has no worry when a fly goes to left.
Siegel, Centerfield:—He has a real drive in that bat this year.
Brown, Right Field:—First year man who took a uniform from a veteran.

Junior School

The Small brothers, Robert and David, are anything but small in energy and ambition. No wonder Cambridge wasn't big enough for them. Give them time and these two boys will show us the results of vigorous, enthusiastic childhood.

A globe-trotter came to E. G. A. in September. Starting life in San Diego, California, he moved to Chicago; from there to Philadelphia and, after a half-year's residence in Honolulu, Reed Grady arrived here to be one of the junior boys.

It is to be deeply regretted that Mrs. Stewart became ill before the close of her seventh year as teacher and house mother at the Olney Dormitory. Her interest and loving care for her boys have made a lasting impression upon those who have lived with her.

Jokes

I gazed into her dark and glowing eyes. Her lips were saying those three wonderful words I had waited for so long. I could not believe it, and yet it was true. Again she said, fulfilling the dream of my life, "No Latin assignment."

* * *

"When I got home last nite I knew there was something up."

"Was a light burning in the window?"

"No, handsome, but my dad was."

* * *

Pete Pharnes: Is my mouth open wide enuf dentist?

Dentist: Oh, yes, sir, I shall stand outside while pulling the tooth!

* * *

Tomcat: Is it a fight to the finish, or just five out of nine lives?

* * *

Jack Atwood: "Are you dining anywhere tonite?"

Helen Weeden—(hopefully): "No, I'm not."

Jack: "My, you'll be hungry by morning!"

* * *

Old Lady to "The" Norwood in Philadelphia Station: "Which platform for the Chicago train?"

Norwood: "Turn to the left and you'll be right."

Old Lady: "Don't be impertinent, young man."

Norwood: "All right, then. Turn to the right and you'll be left."

* * *

I don't mind school:—It's the principle of the thing.

A STUDENT'S SOLILOQUY

To pass or not to pass, that is the question.
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The slams and errors of outrageous teachers
Or to take arms against a flood of lessons
And by opposing, end them. To flunk, to pass, no more.
And by a flunk to say we end the lessons
And the thousand sleepless nights that students are heir to—
'Tis a consummation devoutly to be wished.
To flunk, to fail—
Home! Aye, there's the rub! For in that home of mine
With flunking grades, must give us pause;
For who can stand the whips and scorns of dads,
The insolence of sisters, the spurns of haughty neighbors,
When one might end it all by making a bare D?

* * *

Millie Haire: "Do you use tooth paste?"

Charlie Haire: "Of course not, none of my teeth is loose."

* * *

"There's a man who irritates a lot of people."

"Oh, a social bore, eh?"

"No, he manufactures woolen underwear."

* * *

She has film on her teeth and is sitting in a dark corner to see what will develop.

To you, our advertisers, we owe a debt of gratitude for your generous assistance in aiding us, financially, to present to the public, once again our school annual.

The Crimson.
