

THE CRIMSON

1946

The Crimson
1946

Dedication

MISS LISA CIPOLLA

She has done much in preparing the students of East Greenwich High to be better qualified to enter the business world. As advisor to the Class of 1946 and The Herald, the school newspaper, her services have been inestimable. We are honored to dedicate this year's Crimson to her.

He has done much for the boys through his athletic program and for the school as an all-round faculty member. The increase in school spirit during the past two years is due primarily to his efforts. We take pleasure in dedicating this edition of The Crimson to him.

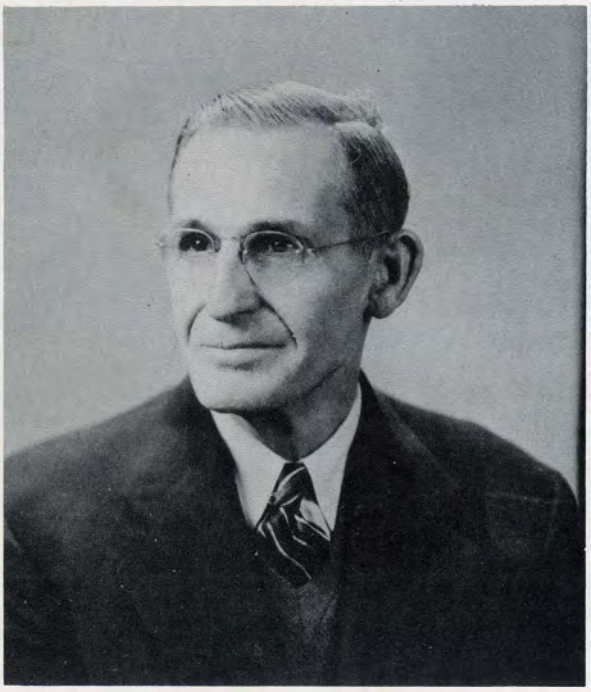

MR. NICOLA CARCIERI

In Appreciation

MISS BLANCHE WOOD

As advisor to the Class of 1946 her services have been invaluable. The literary work in this year's Crimson was accomplished under her able direction. We sincerely thank her for helping to make The Crimson and class activities the successes they were.

MR. HERBERT B. WILSON

He came to East Greenwich High with our class. Throughout his four years here he has always been willing to help any class or organization with their activities. We cannot thank him enough for the work he has done. We are happy to show him our appreciation in this year's Crimson.

IN MEMORIAM

MARY ELIZABETH MASTERSON
Died November 22, 1945

She was quiet, but in this simple way she earned the respect of all her classmates. Her wit and the joy she brought to us with it is greatly missed. We respectfully dedicate this page of the 1946 Crimson to her memory.

The Superintendent's Message to the Senior Class

I am honored to have been selected by the class of 1946 to write this message. You are the first class to have completed the four years program of the East Greenwich High School. You are the first class to face a postwar. To you is offered the golden opportunity of assisting in the establishment of a new world order.

We have attempted to provide you with an education that makes sense and to equip you for taking an active participation in this new world. But—we face a great emergency. Atomic power makes our future so precarious that the world needs youth and its eloquence as its spokesman to preserve peace.

It takes more than test tubes or books to reach this goal. Intellective growth and power also embraces such ideals as were visualized by our late President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, in the Four Freedoms.

"Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands, done like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you will choose them as your guides, and, following them reach your destiny." Carl Schurz.

Class History

It was four years ago that the Superior Ghost gave me my assignment and told me to come down from the old chapel to haunt the Class of 1946. I agreed and gathered my necessary equipment and so prepared to take the job I was to have for the next four years.

I got the first glimpse of the class I was to haunt on the opening day of school in September, 1942. There they were a group of small kids just out of Eldredge. They really looked minute compared to the upper classmen. During their first days here they seemed a little afraid especially of those seniors and of Initiation Day and did they get it on that day. Why I hardly recognized them. They went through the toughest initiation ever held at East Greenwich High.

Now officially members of the school, they elected officers:

Emily Briggs	President
Frances Rice	Vice-President
Norma Magner	Secretary
Penelope Cruden	Treasurer

The first year was a quiet one for the freshmen and their advisors, Miss Mary Walsh, Miss Margaret Steinmetz and Mr. Clinton L. White.

After a nice long summer vacation they returned to school. This time I noted they had a little more confidence in themselves. I mentioned this in my annual report to the Ghost Superior. Right away they elected the following officers:

Shirley Farrell	President
Almeda Symons	Vice-President
Margaret Cheever	Secretary
Bob Howard	Treasurer

The big event of their Sophomore year was the running of the Sweetheart Dance at which they crowned Shirley Farrell, Sweetheart. Their advisors Miss Beatrice Hall and Miss Catherine Whitney helped them a great deal.

Before they knew it another summer was upon them and then another fall.

They came to school this year as Juniors and re-elected Shirley Farrell to serve another term as Class President.

Peter DeRestie	Vice-President
Margaret Cheever	Secretary
Philip Panizza	Treasurer

They started the year with Miss Beatrice Hall and Mr. Nicola Carcieri as advisors. After Miss Hall's resignation Miss Lisa Cipolla joined Mr. Carcieri as a class advisor.

In November they ran a Harvest Dance but their big event of the year was running the Junior Prom. According to the reports it was the finest prom ever held at E. G. H.

Another summer passed and then the big day came. They came back to school this time with the pride and dignity of Seniors. I, too, was proud for this made me the senior ranking campus ghost. They elected the following officers to head the class in its last year at E. G. H.

George Bristol	President
Peter DeRestie	Vice-President
Margaret Cheever	Secretary
Philip Panizza	Treasurer
Charlotte Spungin	Social Chairman

Their first "social" activity of the year was initiating the incoming freshmen. This was done in grand style over at Goddard Park. After they were sufficiently "killed" the seniors put on a dance in their honor. They held a hayride one fall evening and a grand time was had by all who attended.

In December came the Christmas Dance and proved to be a gala affair.

February found the Seniors busily selling tickets for the annual movie night.

Things were quiet until commencement activities started. First came the traditional Ivy Day exercises and crowning the queen of the day. That night the Seniors put on their last dance at E. G. H.—the Ivy Day Dance.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1946

HEAR YE:

Whereas, here in the County of Kent in the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations under the jurisdiction of Deputy Sheriff Edward J. Murray, the Class of 1946 hereby presents its Last Will and Testament.

Beverly Berg leaves her height to Anna Grover so she can look down instead of up.

Gertrude Bickford leaves the temperament of her red locks to Mary Hagerty to show a little more spunk.

Emily Briggs wills her gossip column to any group of girls who qualify for the job.

George Bristol wills to Russell Kenyon his book of alibis in hopes he'll make good use of it.

Margaret Cheever wills her versatility to Marianne Hart to carry on next year.

Richard Davis wills his mischievous spirit to Howard Wilcox so study hall will never be dull.

Peter DeRestie wills his famous line to Glen King to enable him to do away with all competition.

Dolly Jean Dunn wills an eraser to Carla Cevoli to help out in those speed tests.

Gertrude Essex wills to Raymond Northrop her title of class baby. It seems to fit so well.

Shirley Farrell wills her poison ivy lotion to Gwen, so she can put it to good use when she and Pete go walking up Lover's Lane.

Pearl Fiske wills a pencil and piece of paper to Charley Moone to keep him occupied and out of the office during study halls.

Bill Huling leaves the position of movie projector operator to Terry Dahlquist. Keep it running smoothly, Terry.

Nancy Kettelle wills the front seat on the bus to Lucy Mottola who finds the bus driver to be of so much interest.

Fred McLaughlin wills his nickname in basketball, "Wrong Basket McLaughlin," to a capable successor, Jack Faulk.

Angie Maddalena wills her quietness to Jane Grant. Take it easy on the corners Jane!

Norma Magner wills her dignity to Barbara Frasier. Calm down Barbara!

Rudolph Mattiace wills his book of excuses to Sally Pickells who manages to come in last to classes.

Marjorie McKone wills to Betsy Pickells her by-name of class flirt, seeing Betsy has started out so well.

II

Patricia Murphy wills her job on the candy counter at E. G. Theater to Mike Romano. Think of all the movies you can see then, Mike.

John Olson wills his ability to devour cabinets, sundaes, and ice cream cones at Hathaway's to Margie Anderson in hopes that she will carry on the tradition.

Philip Panizza wills to Ronald Fetzer his old clown make up. Phil says that's all Ronald needs to make a good job perfect.

Constance Paolucci wills her candid-camera to Clinton Clough. Don't lose those pictures Clinton.

Helen Papadopoulos wills her work in the business department of the Herald and Crimson to Barbara Baker.

Helen Parker wills her job of secretary to Mr. MacDiarmed to Carol Gorman.

Anna Petteruti wills her ever ready smile to Barbara Bailey. Brighten up, Barbara.

Frances Rice wills her record of never being late to Philip Hopp. We know he can use it.

Doris Rizzardini wills to George Creapeau a map of East Greenwich so that he can find the shortest way home.

Helen Rizzardini wills a curler to Wilma Briggs to use frequently during her high school years.

Charlotte Spungin wills to Glen King her prized and most treasured volume, "How to Grow Apples"; also to accompany it a polishing cloth guaranteed not to wear out for one year.

Jean Swan wills her loud sweet voice for cheering to Janice Huling. As if she needed it!

Almeda Symons wills her study habits to Tiny Wilson so his study periods won't be wasted.

Madaline Warhurst wills her pass card to Sun Valley U. S. O. to June Carpenter as she can make good use of it.

Red Wilson wills to Tony D'Ambrosca his giggle so E. G. H. won't be lonesome.

Jean Zirkle wills a picture of Van Johnson to Barbara Warhurst to swoon over.

The will has hereby been executed in our presence and our hands and seals have hereby been affixed on this tenth day of June, one thousand nine-hundred and forty-six.

Class Prophecy

Scene—George Bristol's living room
Time—1955

The other night when I was aimlessly wandering around the living room, I happened to pause by the bookcase and my eyes fell upon my old class album. Looking over the pictures, I began to wonder what the members of the Class of 1946 were doing now. The next day Pete DeRestie, my law partner, Helen Papadopoulos, our secretary, and I set out to discover where fame and fortune had taken the various members of the Class of '46.

After diligently searching by telephone, mail, newspaper and radio, we found that:

Jean Zirkle is a movie critic and writes her column for some of the nation's largest papers.

Frances Rice is now a nurse at the Rhode Island Hospital in charge of the broken nose ward.

Fred McLaughlin has become general manager of the Murray Chain of Deep Cut Rate Stores.

I saw Philip Panizza, the dashing young naval officer, at Red Wilson's Ringside Grille. Red has an ideal location right next to Madison Square Garden. Red told me Margaret Cheever is an artist living down in Greenwich Village. At Red's Grille the Rizzardinis, Helen and Doris, Angie Maddalena and Beverly Berg are all hostesses.

Almeda Symons is busily engaged in touring Switzerland, something she always wanted to do.

Rudolph Mattiace is one of the best dance instructors Arthur Murray has.

Norma Magner is traveling and when she gets home there is that swimming job she wants.

Emily Briggs, Helen Parker, Connie Paolucci, and Gertrude Bickford are all working in the office of the Richard Davis & Company trucking firm. Dick must have twenty trucks going to New York daily.

John Olson is known as "Swede" Olson and is one of baseball's outstanding players in the big leagues.

Bill Huling is a vice-president of General Electric Company. His interest in electricity is getting him eventual control of General Electric.

Gertrude Essex is working for a firm named Sidney & Company.

Dolly Dunn and Marjorie McKone are still inseparable spending all their extra time riding U. E. R. buses to and from each other's homes.

Pearl Fiske is the assistant manager of Sharpe's Hardware Company.

Shirley Farrell is working on Broadway as technical advisor to that all time big hit "Mama's Angel Child."

Anna Petteruti with her modern business methods has enlarged her father's business to such an extent that she has to be there all the time handling his affairs.

Donald Soderlund has succeeded his father in the contracting business and has enlarged it greatly.

Madaline Warhurst is secretary for the owner of a large farm near her home.

Charlotte Spungin is now assisting Mr. R. H. Mitchell in guidance in a school in Massachusetts.

Nancy Kettelle and Pat Murphy are both secretaries. Nancy works for the Kettelle Motor Company and Pat is sending out the bills for Matteson Jewelry Company.

Jean Swan is a dress designer at Macy's in New York.

When Pete, Helen and I gathered once again in my living room to finish comparing notes on our group, we thought that next year, which would mark our tenth anniversary, the wise but aging members of the Class of '46 should have a reunion.

The Class of 1947

At last the time grows near when we will become the long awaited and anticipated Senior Class. We look back over the past three years with fond recollection of our varied experiences.

This year the Junior Class produced several future John and Ethel Barrymores who participated in the school play "Mama's Angel Child." A food sale was held at the beginning of the year which furnished funds for the annual fall dance. The social season was concluded with the very successful Junior Prom.

Class of 1949

We, the Class of 1949, wish to extend to the Seniors our deep appreciation for the "heartwarming" reception you tendered us on October 3rd, 1945. We shall always remember it.

We have enjoyed our first year at the East Greenwich High School, and we feel that we shall enjoy our future years even more.

On behalf of the Freshmen Class I wish to thank the graduates once again for their friendly help in giving our class a fine start in its high school career.

The Rhode Island Honor Society

The Rhode Island Honor Society is composed of students who have maintained an average of eighty-five per cent or better throughout their four high school years. The Class of 1946 heartily congratulates the eight seniors who this year have achieved this honor.

The members of the Rhode Island Honor Society are:

Gertrude Essex
Frances Rice
Almeda Symons
Peter DeRestie
Norma Magner
Jean Zirkle
Margaret Cheever
William Huling

Student Council

It is the purpose of the Student Council to represent the students in any way they can, such as making a Social Calendar at the beginning of every year that will arrange school functions so that none will conflict. This year the Student Council has spent much of its time revising the constitution in hopes that the new one will tend to better class and club activities and help to raise the standards of E. G. H.

The Herald

Need we say more? This official grapevine of good old East Greenwich High School includes the literary works of up-and-coming young authors and cartoon reviews of that heroic group, our football team, as sketched up front with Phil Panizza. And what would we do without those corny open-a-can-of-beans-and-make-succotash jokes which enterprising juvenile reporters, shall we say "borrowed" from the latest periodical?

The surprise of the year was the big two-in-one copy published just before Christmas vacation. It seems that the advisor was A. W. O. L. with, ahem, influenza at a critical time—just before the Thanksgiving edition was to roll off the press. As a result, we combined the turkey dinner with a Christmas tree and had a wonderful time browsing through the Herald's pages on December 21, of the year 1945.

Although the Herald has undoubtedly caused a number of heartbeats and heartbreaks, it has been the dash of spice in our school days.

Dramatic Club

One of the main events of the season was "Mama's Angel Child" presented in November by members of the Dramatic Club.

The antics of the little leading lady, Shirley Farrell, which were directed at her hero, Charlie Hunt, those torrid love scenes between Mike and Maggie, spices with the "And as I was saying" of Marianne Hart; all were combined to produce a bang-up performance that tickled the funnybone of the audience.

The scenery was extremely realistic, owing, no doubt, to Mr. Moreland's labor and a few interesting pictures which decorated the walls.

"Mama's Angel Child" owed its success to the splendid co-operation of the cast and the back-stage workers.

Glee Club

Yes, we're all safe-and-sound after a worthwhile struggle with "The Pirates of Penzance." Thanks to our music teacher, the man with the arm and hammer who superintended the scenery-making, and those others who gave so much of their time to the production of this favorite operetta, we can claim 1946 as another of our triumphant years in music-making.

We have not only strived for successful singing, but we have wholly enjoyed our membership in this club and will always recall with pleasure the "Puritan Room," where we sang some of the happiest notes in our life.

Athletic Association

At the beginning of this school year a boy's and girl's Athletic Association was formed. Athletic tickets were sold that would admit members to all home games in all sports. The selling of soda at football and basketball games and a very successful Athletic Dance helped the Association to sponsor the purchasing of athletic equipment. The Italo-American Club sponsored a turkey raffle for the benefit of the A. A. The Athletic Association has been very successful this year in our sports program. Many thanks must be given to the untiring efforts of the advisors, Miss Catherine Whitney and Mr. Nicola Carcieri.

Baseball Team

This year East Greenwich High entered in the Class C League Baseball League. It marks the second year of League play for the red and white since the outbreak of the war.

The year of '46 is due to be an eventful year. We have most of last year's team with us as well as many new prospects. We are looking forward to many victories.

Cheerleaders

These vivacious students can take the credit for building up the morale of our zealous athletes. The school and the teams are grateful to the cheerleaders for their untiring efforts to "raise the rafters" and put that extra something into Coach's boys. Their fame has spread into neighboring territory—proof that the red-and-white cheerleaders are shouting the game way to the top.

Football Squad

For the first time in three years, East Greenwich's Football team was represented in the League in Class C Division. John Olson and Red Wilson were the Co-Captains of this team which gave strong competition to the opposing teams. Although we have no wins to our credit, the experience we gained gives us hopes for a more eventful year in 1946.

Franzone, P. Healy.

Basketball Squad

Basketball got off to an early start this year. The whistle blew for the first time in early December. Since then the boys have played two and sometimes three nights a week. Up to date we have won three games and hope for more victories before the end of March.

Co-Captains

DONALD SODERLUND RUSSELL WILSON

Girls' Basketball Team

The girls of East Greenwich played four games, two with the Rhode Island School of the Deaf which they won; two with North Providence losing by only a few points. The girls are already looking forward to a victorious season in '46 and '47. On the floor the team was lead by the Captain, Margaret Cheever and were coached by Miss Catherine Whitney.

Boys' Gym Team

This is the second year the High School Gym Team has been in existence. Many bruises were received by all on the apparatus but hard working members finally got their so-called reward, being watched by a large number of criticizing onlookers. The results of having girls working on the apparatus with the boys were very successful and it probably will be continued in the future.

The team is grateful to Mr. Nicola Carcieri for his untiring efforts in training them.

Girls' Gym Team

This year something new has been added to our field of athletics. The East Greenwich High School now boasts a Girls' Gym Team as well as a boys'. The girls have worked hard developing the skill it takes to master the gym equipment and they have succeeded. A combined exhibition of both boys' and girls' gym teams was held in March.

Much of the credit for the success of the team should be given to Miss Blanche Wood who organized it and coached the girls.
