Teen Age Group Plan Food Sale To Benefit Treasury

As a result of a movement started by Walter R. Hazard the people of the community are rallying to the support of the teen age group in their effort to establish a youth center here. The people generally are offering financial support as well and already a very substantial sum has been pledged. Mr. Hazard

Clef Community Chorus To Present Winter Concert

The Clef Community Chorus, under the direction of C. Alexander Peloquin and assisted by Marilyn H. Johnson, as pianist, presents its Annual Winter Concert, Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Varnum Armory in East Greenwich. This year's concert is devoted to an all Christmas program as follows:

Stephen E. Silverman One of Youngest Ham Radio Operators

Although eleven year-old Stephen E Silverman now lives at 121 Spencer Avenue in nearby Warwick, we here in East Greenwich claim him as our very own and feel sure that the combination of his choice of parents and the good air of our fair town have gone a long way in making him one of the

Fire Chief Warns Of Fire Hazards During Holidays

At this season of the year the members of the Fire Department, headed by Chief Frederick T. Miller, commence to worry about the fire hazard that is always with us during the holidays. FOREWORD

As we go to press, our pens, pencils, and typewriters, having served their purpose, are laid aside. In this temporary reprieve we now find time to remember the Reporters, Rewrites, Copyreaders, and Photographers who made our task a more enjoyable one with their willing helpfulness.

Our Publishers and Managing Editors, the basis of any newspaper, will remain the guiding light in the printing of future editions.

The presses, soon to be silenced, will have imbedded in their frame the nostalgic memories of our happy years as staff members at East Greenwich High School.

DEDICATION

MARY ANN ZAMMITTI

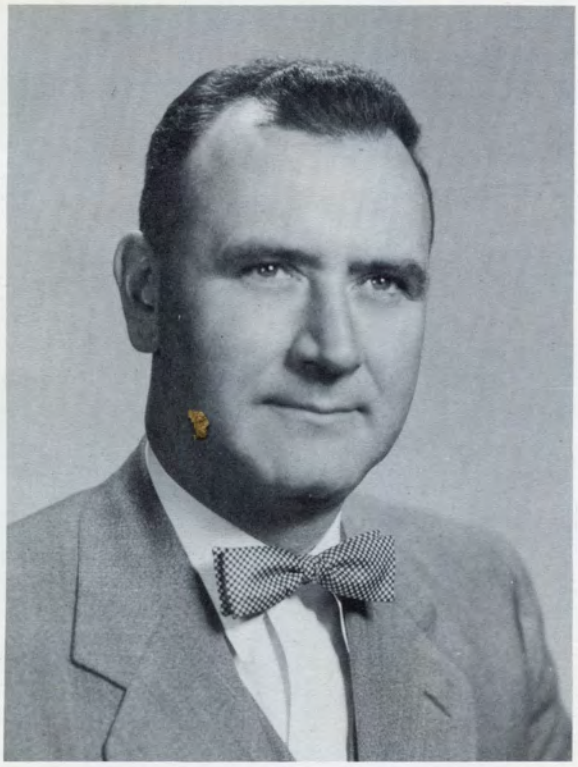

DOMENIC IANNAZZI

To Miss Mary Ann Zammitti and Mr. Domenic Iannazzi we, the Class of 1954, dedicate this edition of the Crimson.

Their unselfish service and patient counsel have guided us through our years at East Greenwich High School. Without their guidance this publication would not have been possible.

It has been a great privilege for us to have had two such praiseworthy advisers and, at this time, we should like to express our thanks to them.

To the Class of 1954

On June 4, 1954, your graduation day from East Greenwich High School, you must accept your share of the responsibility for the preservation of American democracy. Throughout the years you must continue your study of governmental affairs local, state, national, and world in order to develop intelligent citizenship. The American way of life is precious. Guard it zealously.

I extend my best wishes to each of you for happiness and success in your chosen careers.

Probate Records

We, the Class of 1954 of the East Greenwich High School, having accumulated as much wealth and wisdom as possible during our five year stay, do will and bequeath the following valuables:

To Mr. Andersen we leave the job of architect for the designing of the future homes for the Class of 1954.

To Mrs. Barker we leave a box of candy for her future "Candy Days". We appreciated them very much and we know future classes will also.

To Mr. Brackley we leave the hope that he will not have to endure another class like ours.

To Miss Butler we leave a more dignified class of Monsieurs and Madmoiselles who are much more adept in the art of "parlez-vousing!"

To Miss Byrnes we leave a megaphone in order that she may give instructions to an eighth grade art class without losing her voice.

To Mr. Carcieri we leave a pair of stilts for the future guarterbacks in order that they may be able to locate their receivers and make those passes "click".

To Miss Cooney we leave the knack for making that easy . . . money. There's nothing to it!

To Mrs. Curtis we leave a nice warm sweater for those drafty winter days.

To Mrs. Ferretti we leave a record of the Typewriter Song to serve as an inspiration to future typewriting classes.

To Mr. Ferri we leave a box of popcorn to be available when he gets that urge.

To Mrs. Hunter we leave a more lady-like class of senior girls. Think how dull-um that will be-um.

To Mr. Iannazzi we leave a billy-club to keep future homeroom sessions down to a minimum roar.

To Mr. Morris we leave a box for his attendance slips in consideration for the future receptionists.

To Mrs. Morris we leave a player piano to keep the future Glee Club in tune.

To Mr. Regini we leave an extra pair of hands to aid him in his busy schedule.

To Mrs. Roderick we leave a current issue of Vogue Magazine so she can continue to "wow" them with those fashionable clothes.

To Miss Zammitti we leave a wheelbarrow to help carry back to class corrected assignments and test papers from the previous day.

Milton Abrams leaves his favorite phrase "You crazy mixed-up kid" to any crazy mixed-up kid.

Patricia Amerson leaves a new cushion to Mr. Regini for next year's driving class. Her favorite excuse for grinding the gears — "I can't reach the pedals."

Judith Anderson leaves her attraction for the sun to Mary Ann Anderson. "Ouch!"

Norma Blanchard leaves her sweet and gentle ways to Patricia McMahon.

Bette Booth leaves for North Kingston.

Joan Brayton leaves her station on the front steps to Marie Mottola. Better bring along a cushion, Marie!

Jean Brennan leaves her talent for "mixing-it-up" in Senior English to Joye Mather.

Christine Cragan leaves her title of "Sophisticated Lady" to Ann Mellor.

Mary Cragan leaves her corny jokes (emphasis on corny) to Mary Lou Murray.

Barbara Cruickshank leaves her chauffeur's license to Lena Kettelle.

Shirley Davenport leaves her seat on the "Exeter School Special" to Valerie Ladd.

Beverly Denton leaves her love for gym classes to Dorothy Healy.

Anne Dresser leaves to her sister Mary her stentorian laugh so it will still resound in the halls of E. G. High.

Joan Duffy leaves twenty-two sets of false teeth to Coach for safe keeping for next year's football team.

Rita Ficoturo leaves Mrs. Hunter one of Mailles' cakes to serve as an inspiration to next year's cooking classes.

Michael Franzone leaves his ability to "swish" the ball through the basket to Steve Beckman.

Catherine Greene leaves her scholarly record to Donald Larson.

David Hallene leaves his manner of teasing Miss Zammitti to any Junior who feels he can get away with it.

Joan Hart leaves a left-handed desk to Betty Wilson to make it easier to take shorthand dictation.

Betty Holmes leaves her dancing feet to Mary Lynn Reisert. Don't get carried away.

Leigh Johnson leaves his Swedish pride to David Oltedale.

Betty Kenyon leaves her place at the end of the line to Margaret Wilcox in hopes that she may someday fill it.

Shirley Kettelle leaves a "genuine" antique picture of herself to Mrs. Hunter. It could turn out to be of great value someday.

Sandra Leeds leaves her job as poster maker to anyone foolish enough to volunteer in the first place.

Robert Leyden leaves his job as vice-president of everything to anyone who wants it. Don't miss this opportunity, the job's a "cinch."

Henry Littlefield leaves a package of bologna to any other lover of this rare delicacy.

Vincent Maddalena leaves a coffe pot to the next class that takes the football concession. Vincent is also available for any tips you might need as to the strength of this beverage.

Benjamin Malvinni leaves to his sister Nancy the "Ideal East Greenwich School Spirit."

William Mather leaves his red toupee to Robert Novo. That red hair really "slays" the girls!

Veronica Mello leaves her thermos bottle to her sister Madeline for those hot drinks on those cold days.

Irene Minville leaves in a hurry. The only comment we could catch was "Whew, at last I'm free."

Earle Mitchell leaves nothing. He wants to keep it all himself.

Majorie Siiro leaves a list of her famous excuses to anybody else who is on the spot and is in need of one.

James Smith leaves the knowledge of newspaper "savvy" to the future editors of the "Avenger."

Frederick Springfield leaves his plane and slide-rule to David Norman. Good luck to a future engineer.

Lenora Taylor leaves the composition of senior songs for Moving-Up Day to James Essex.

James Trainor leaves his physique to Donald Rice.

James VanBaalen leaves an alarm clock to Gordon Cooley to wake him on those early summer mornings when the quahaugs are waiting for him.

Alfred Warhurst leaves Joan Trudell the key to his heart. Better keep it in a safe-deposit box, Joan!

Charlotte White leaves to next year's senior treasurer her restraining motto, "Money, money everywhere but not a cent of my own!"

Carol Wilcox leaves her declarations of independence to anyone brave enough to sign his "John Hancock" to them.

In witness thereof we, the Class of 1954, proclaim this our last will and testament, on this twenty-eighth day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-four.

Ken Harris scored both touchdowns for the winners, who spotted Coventry a 6-0 lead in the opening period and then battled back for the victory with a two-touchdown splurge in the final period.

A fumble which Coventry recovered on the East Greenwich 35-yard line helped set up the visitors' touchdown in the opening period. Harry Hampson and Ed Bernard did most of the work as the Red Devils moved to the three-yard line and then Bernard bucked over.
